RALPH F. COLIN ELECTED MUSEUM OF MODERN ART TRUSTEE

Mr. Ralph F. Colin, New York lawyer, has been elected a trustee of the Museum of Modern Art, John Hay Whitney, chairman of the Board, announced today. Mr. Whitney also announced that Mrs. Simon Guggenheim, who has been a trustee and patron since 1940, has been elected an honorary trustee for life.

Mr. Colin, vice-chairman of the Museum's International Council, has lent many important paintings from his outstanding collection of modern art to Museum exhibitions, including the current retrospective of Edouard Vuillard. He is a trustee of the American Federation of Arts, a vice-president, trustee and director of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Society of New York and a member of the Visiting Committee of the Department of Fine Arts and Fogg Museum at Harvard University.

Mr. Colin is a director of the American Arbitration Association and a director and honorary secretary of The Baron de Hirsch Fund. He is a member of the law firm of Rosenman Goldmark Colin and Kaye and is a director and general counsel for several corporations including the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. He is also a director of Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., publishers.
