SUMMER SESSION OF PEOPLE'S ART CENTER BEGINS JUNE 3

The summer session of art classes for children, parents, young people, and adults at the People's Art Center of the Museum of Modern Art, 21 West 53 Street, will begin June 3 and continue through July 25.

Classes for children from the ages of three through eighteen, grouped according to age level, will be held at various times throughout the day, Mondays through Thursdays. These classes will include a variety of art experiences in different media: paint, clay, collage, and construction. Several classes for parents and children, ages three through six, will be held both mornings and afternoons. Enrollment is for either June or July or both months. Fees range from $6 to $12 for one month, once a week, or double that for the two months.

Adult classes in outdoor sketching and painting, orientation, beginning drawing, beginning and advanced drawing and painting, life, and fundamentals of design will be included. Two new classes will be offered this year under Mr. Abraham Chanin's direction: "One Hundred and Fifty Years of Modern Art: 1800-1950"; and "Visits to Masterpieces in the Collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art."

Both day and evening classes are offered Monday through Thursday. Tuition ranges from $10 to $15 for one month, once a week; or double that for the two months.

Applications will be received for all classes beginning May 1.

For further information contact Elizabeth Shaw, Publicity Director, Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53 Street, New York 19, N. Y. Circle 5-8900.
