SPECIAL TO INDIANAPOLIS NEWSPAPERS

William Majors, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Cruce of Indianapolis, has joined the teaching staff of the Institute of Modern Art's Art Center at The Museum of Modern Art in New York City. Mr. Majors, a painter and graphic artist, was born in Indianapolis in 1930.

Now a resident of New York, Mr. Majors instructs two adult classes: a course in painting and an experimental course in print making. Classes are held in a recently completed wing at the Museum.

Mr. Majors studied at the John Herron Art School in Indianapolis and the Cleveland School of Art. He received a number of awards including the John Hay Whitney Foundation Fellowship, 1960-61, and the Wolcott Travel Award. His work has been exhibited in group shows such as the A.C.A. Gallery Group Show, 1962, and is in private collections as well as those of The Museum of Modern Art and The Brooklyn Museum.
