FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jennifer Licht, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture at The Museum of Modern Art, will present an illustrated lecture on "The Machine" on Thursday, February 6 at 12 noon in the Museum Auditorium in connection with the current exhibition THE MACHINE AS SEEN AT THE END OF THE MECHANICAL AGE. Mrs. Licht assisted Pontus Hultén, Director of Moderna Museet, Stockholm, who organized THE MACHINE exhibition for The Museum of Modern Art.

Mrs. Licht, who joined the Museum staff six years ago, was born in London and received Diplomas from the University of Paris, the University of Perugia, and the University of Vienna.

The new program of free noon lectures was announced in December by Anne Hanson, Director of the Museum's International Study Center. The Auditorium talks make it possible for a larger audience to attend discussions than the limited number of people who can be accommodated in the gallery talks. The Auditorium lectures also alleviate the crowding in exhibition areas. The lectures remain informal and questions are welcome from the floor as usual.
