SONGWRITER DUO, JOHN AND CARRIE CARNEY, IN TWO SUMMERGARDEN PERFORMANCES

JOHN AND CARRIE CARNEY present their original songs, backed by guitar and tambourine, in Summergarden performances at 8 pm on Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20, in the Sculpture Garden of The Museum of Modern Art. Free admission is through the Garden gate at 8 West 54 Street and seating is casual.

The Carneys were featured performers in the American Park Pavilion at Expo 70, Osaka, Japan, after which they traveled around the world. Upon their return to the United States, they repeated an extensive national tour they had made in 1968 on the National Coffeehouse Circuit, which took them to colleges and universities throughout the northeast, midwest, south and southwest. They have appeared at The Other End, The Bitter End, and Folk City, among other New York clubs, and in major clubs in New Haven, Chicago, Toronto, Montreal and Miami.

THE SMALLEST SHOW ON EARTH comes to Summergarden July 26 and 27: Steven Hansen, a walking one-man Punch and Judy Show of topical adult material, dances and cavorts on foot along with his characters which include a well-known political figure. A short show will be given at 8 pm and again at 9:30 pm each evening.
