RECORDED TOUR FOR VIENNA 1900 EXHIBITION

Kirk Varnedoe, adjunct curator in the Museum's Department of Painting and Sculpture and professor at New York University's Institute of Fine Arts, has prepared and narrated a recorded tour of VIENNA 1900: ART, ARCHITECTURE & DESIGN. As organizer of the exhibition and author of its accompanying catalog, Dr. Varnedoe provides an informed and insightful guide to the splendid array of masterworks on view in the exhibition, focusing on its highlights. He describes the artistic developments that occurred in Vienna between 1898 and 1918, revealing how they are reflected in the paintings, decorative objects, graphic design, and architectural works on view. The tour offers visitors a concise and coherent interpretation of one of the most creative, complicated, and exciting periods in the history of modern art.
