For release:

Thursday, June 6, 1957

No. 38A

To accommodate record breaking crowds attending the Picasso exhibition the Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53 Street, will remain open Thursday evenings until 10 p.m. beginning June 6. Dinner will be served in the air conditioned garden restaurant and on the open air terrace that overlooks the sculpture court.

The Picasso: 75th Anniversary Exhibition occupies more than three gallery floors. Paintings, sculpture and drawings from 1899 to 1956 have been borrowed from 95 public and private collections here and abroad for the exhibition which will remain on view through September 8.

An added attraction on the Thursday nights at the Museum will be the opportunity to stroll through the Sculpture Garden where some of the great works of art from the Museum Collection are placed among the trees, myrtle banks and reflect-pools.

The Picasso exhibition, the most comprehensive ever shown in America, was organized by Alfred H. Barr, Jr., Director of Museum Collections. It will later be shown in Chicago and Philadelphia.

In addition to the Thursday evening hours, the Museum will also remain open one hour later on Saturdays. The summer schedule is:

Mondays through Fridays, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Thursday evenings open until 10 p.m.

Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Sundays, 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.
