AUGUST OPENINGS

- Aug. 3-
Sept.
- MY EUROPEAN TRIP: Photographs from the Car by Joel Meyerowitz. 40 photographs taken from a moving automobile during a 20,000 mile tour of the British Isles, Europe, Morocco, Greece, Bulgaria, and Turkey in 1966-67. The camera catches things that are continually vanishing and the photographer's vantage point reflects the fragmentation of modern experience. Selected by John Szarkowski, Director, Department of Photography. 3rd floor, Edward Steichen Photography Center.
- Aug. 13-
Oct. 13
- JOHN D. GRAHAM: Paintings and Drawings. This exhibition presents a selection from the later works of the Russian-born artist, John D. Graham, who had a vital influence in shaping New York's art world of the thirties and forties but whose work is not well known to the general public. Working abstractly through the thirties, Graham adopted in the early forties a figurative style based on Renaissance painting. The works include unique and evocative portraits of women, immobile and calm, who betray a mysterious inner disturbance. Oil drawings on tracing paper create almost hieratic images reflecting Graham's

FUTURE OPENINGS - TEMPORARY EXHIBITIONS (Incomplete listing)

- Sept. 25*- ARCHITECTURE OF MUSEUMS. During the last decade the world-wide proliferation
 Nov. 11 of museums has resulted in much important architecture. It is not so surprising considering that almost every leading architect including Wright and Le Corbusier has been tempted into offering his own solutions to the problems of museum design. This exhibition will present several of the outstanding museums, such as Mies van der Rohe's New National Gallery for Berlin and Kevin Roche's Oakland Museum Center in California, in their architectural entirety, and focus on specific aspects of a great number of other museums. These aspects, drawn from museums all over the world, involve architectural details and installation elements for both newly constructed and recently renovated museum buildings. Models, drawings, photographic enlargements, and slide projections will illustrate the selected examples, with a brief historical introduction prefacing the entire show. Directed by Ludwig Glaeser, Associate Curator of Architecture, Department of Architecture & Design. 1st floor, gallery 2.
- Oct. 3- DUBUFFET - FROM THE MUSEUM OF MODERN ART COLLECTIONS. Directed by William S.
 Nov. 4 Lieberman, Director, Department of Drawings & Prints. 1st floor, galleries 3 & 4.
- Oct. 22- RAUSCHENBERG - "SOUNDINGS". A 36 foot long, 8 foot high, 54 inch deep construction made up of large plexiglas panels on which varying images of chairs have been silk-screened. Between the panels are lights which are activated by a sound system which in turn is "triggered" by the public noise level. The work creates a constantly changing combination of overlapping images and has been exhibited in Amsterdam and Paris with great public interest. Selected by Bates Lowry, Director, The Museum of Modern Art. 3rd floor, Paul J. Sachs Galleries.
- Oct. 28*- BRASSAI (photography). Directed by John Szarkowski, Director, Department of Jan. 5 Photography. 1st floor, galleries 5 & 6.
- Nov. 27- THE MACHINE AS VIEWED AT THE END OF THE MECHANICAL AGE. An exhibition of more
 Feb. 9 than 125 paintings, sculptures, drawings, prints, and objects selected by K.G. Pontus Hultén, Director of the Moderna Museet in Stockholm. In their production artists of this century have often commented on the machine: the exhibition includes work by the Futurists, Dadaists, Constructivists, Surrealists, artists of the Bauhaus, and recent works shown for the first time selected by Mr. Hultén from a world-wide competition sponsored this year by Experiments in Art and Technology (EAT). The attitudes represented range from the optimistic view that man's mastery of technology will enable him to attain a utopian society, to the pessimistic view that machines may dominate and enslave mankind.
