

The Museum of Modern Art

To Members of the Staff of The Museum of Modern Art
 From Walter Bareiss
 Date October 10, 1969
 Re Vietnam "Moratorium"

A large majority of the Staff of The Museum of Modern Art have expressed an intention to absent themselves on Wednesday, October 15, in order to participate in the Vietnam "Moratorium." Because their absence will create serious operational and safety problems, the Trustees have decided to close the Museum throughout that day.