Re: New Goodnough painting for Hofmann student's show

From: Richard Palmer

Dear Betsey:

I am writing briefly to confirm our conversations of earlier today about the Robert Goodnough painting, Laocoön, 1958, oil and charcoal on canvas, 66 3/8 x 54 1/8", MMA# 9.59, which Mr. Seitz would like to include in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS circulating exhibition. The Goodnough painting originally included in this show was withdrawn after the first year of its tour at the lender's request.

I think we are agreed that the simplest way to proceed, since the painting is currently on loan, is to wait until it is returned to New York next month, following the Goodnough exhibition's closing in Minneapolis on September 30. At that time, I understand the painting will be inspected to determine if it's condition will permit its inclusion in our show. If it does, we will formally request the loan of the work from October, 1964 through April, 1965. If everything goes smoothly, we hope to have the painting in the show in time for its opening at the State University College Gallery in Oswego, New York on October 26.

It would be a great help to us if you could make arrangements with Schumm, who will be receiving the painting, to have it delivered in its packing container (if it was packed individually) so that we may re-use it for our tour.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Bill:

I am writing to confirm our conversations last week regarding various loans to the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. I understand that you have now agreed that we need not replace the Hofmann painting, String Quartet, 1960 (63.592), which Mr. Kootz is withdrawing, since there will still be five other Hofmann works in the show.

I understand also that you will not attempt to secure a replacement for Lee Krasner's, Primeval Resurgence, which she is withdrawing for her one-man show at the Whitechapel, since most of her major canvases will be tied up pending the final selection of that exhibition.

I have attached a copy of my brief note to Mercedes Matter confirming her agreement to extend her loan to the exhibition and believe everything is now straightened out.

Re: HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS
C/E 62-5

Dear Bill:

I believe we failed to notify you that Mr. Kootz wants to substitute another work for the Hofmann painting, String Quartet, 1960 (63.592), which is presently included in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. He brought this point up sometime after we had written to all the lenders to the exhibition in February requesting that they consider extending their loans through April 1965; you were away at the time and we meant to let you know about it when you returned and then simply forgot.

However, as you know, the withdrawal of this painting would still leave 5 works by Hofmann in the show and I wonder if you feel this representation would be adequate. Since the gallery is already closed for the summer, I don't know how difficult it would be for you to select a replacement. If you feel a substitution must be made, it should be about the same size as String Quartet, 50 x 40", so that it can be fitted into the existing packing container without difficulty. We would need to have it in the warehouse by mid-August so that it could be reframed, if necessary, before the show leaves for its first fall booking in early September.

All of the other lenders to the exhibition, with two exceptions, agreed to extend their loans as we requested. Lee Krasner has asked that her painting, Primeval Resurgence, be withdrawn when the show returns to the warehouse (next week) since she plans to include it in a show of her work at the Whitechapel. We've had no answer at all from Mercedes Matter about extending the loan of her Still Life, but I hope she will decide to cooperate.

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

Dear Mrs. ~~Borgenicht~~ Brandt:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Wolf Kahn: Blue Cloud over the Harbor, 1962, and Wilfred Zogbaum: Untitled (#650 T), sculpture in iron.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 4, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mrs. Rankine:

I am afraid it is too late to withdraw the painting by Robert Goodnough from the exhibition of Hans Hofmann and his students.

However, I have spoken to John Myers and he has agreed that the picture will be available to you after the exhibition returns to New York next spring.

If the sale is completed, will you let us know so that we can send loan forms to you.

May I thank you again for the loan of your beautiful drawing to the Gorky exhibition.

Dear Mr. Myers:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Freilicher, North Shore; Goodnough, Circle #3; Richenburg, Red and Rivers, Tyrnitic Painting.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 4, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mr. Palmer-Poroner:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

According to your wish, I have instructed Mr. Hines to call the artist and discuss the matter with her. It is my understanding that either Miss Tabachnick or your gallery will pay for the restoration, the cost estimate for which is $25.

New York, New York

Dear Mr. Adrian:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

Dear Mr. Adrian:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Paul Georges: Portrait of William Gerdts, 1960.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 4, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mrs. Washburn:

I am writing to confirm our telephone conversations in regard to the following matters pertaining to three of your loans to our circulating exhibition HANS HOFFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS:

1) Carl Holty: Left or Right, 1962. You have authorized us to have a dent (c. 1/8") with crackling near L.L. corner restored. Contrary to what I told you over the telephone, the canvas was not punctured. Another, even less serious dent near U.L. corner will also be restored.

2) Alfred Jensen: East Sun: Perpetual Color Motion, 1962. We have received your permission to cover the painting with plexiglass in order to protect the areas of still wet impasto.

3) Perle Fine: A Persuasive Stillness. In order to prevent fading of this colored paper collage, we will protect it with special (ultra-violet ray resistant) plexiglass. Permission for plexiglazing was given by you on the loan agreement form.

We are grateful to you for being able to include the above mentioned pictures as well as the Albert Swinden in our exhibition.

I am writing in regard to your painting, SEQUENCE, which you so generously made available for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. The exhibition is scheduled to end its tour early this month and we expect it to reach New York, where all loans will be checked by our Registrar and prepared for dispersal to their owners beginning in May.

So that we may return your loan as soon as it is ready, I would appreciate it if you would note on the enclosed postal card the exact address to which it should be delivered.

As you may recall, we requested and received your permission when we originally borrowed your work, to construct a new frame for it. If you are interested in purchasing this new frame, which is an "L" type grame with an outer walnut moulding, we could make it available to you at a special discount price of $25.00. Would you kindly note your decision about the frame on the card as well. We would bill you for it after the painting has been returned to you if you decide to purchase it.

Dear Mr. Hofmann:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

Dear Bill

I am most disappointed about your letter of May 20. — and this not about the non-availability of Memoria in Aeternum for the Museums opening. My production is big enough for any replacement and the Kootz-Gallery is ready to give you whatever you would choose. I think it rather a disgrace to the Museum not to show my work adequately and not only I will feel bitter about it.

I am not used to be spoiled and like it rather better than all the honours which only bore me.

Why you speak not with Alfred and Dorothy if they agree that you come down in my studio to choose from my latest production for the occasion. The museum has already chosen a work supposed to be lent to the embassy in Bonn — it is an interesting picture and could be used for the purpose before it will go to Germany.

Dear Mr. Hofmann:

I am writing to formally request the loan of the following five of your paintings that Mr. William C. Seitz is anxious to include in our circulating exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS:

Morning Mist. 1959. Oil on canvas, 55 x 41"
String Quartet. 1960. " , 50 x 40"
Blue Monolith. 1961. " , 76 x 60"
California.... 1960 "
Table with White Vase. 1938. Oil on plywood, 60 x 48-1/2"

Your Bird Cage Variation II, 1958 we are requesting from the Koots Gallery.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Forms in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the originals to this office, retaining the duplicates for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting April 1, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the paintings. It is our understanding that the four first-mentioned paintings are to be collected from your studio at 52 West 8th Street, and Table with White Vase from your apartment, 1 Washington Square Village.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

We are most excited about being able to offer an exhibition of this quality and interest to the subscribers to our circulating program all over the country, and we want to thank you for your most generous cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mrs. Jackson:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Michael Goldberg: Little Josie Michael, 1961, oil on canvas.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. Dear Miss Kalimos:

I am writing in regard to your loan, Wessels: RED MARSH TWILIGHT, which you so generously made available for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS, exhibition. The exhibition is scheduled to end its tour early this month and we expect it to reach New York, where all loans will be checked by our Registrar and prepared for dispersal to their owners beginning in May.

So that we may return your loan as soon as it is ready, I would appreciate it if you would note on the enclosed postal card the exact address to which it should be delivered.

As you may recall, we requested and received your permission when we originally borrowed your work, to construct a new frame for it. If you are interested in purchasing this new frame, which is an "L" type frame with an outer walnut moulding, we could make it available to you at a special discount price of $20. Would you kindly note your decision about the frame on the card as well. We would bill you for it after the painting has been returned to you if you decide to purchase it.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Dear Mr. Wessels:

Your letter of March 30 to Mr. Richard L. Tooke of the Photography Servide of our Library has been forwarded to me for reply.

I am sorry that our Photograph Order for 2 prints, costing about $1.00 each, of your painting Red Marsh Twilight, 1961 from a negative which we believed to exist and in your possession, caused some confusion. To the following question on our Loan Agreement Form for the above-mentioned painting, "CATALOG AND PUBLICITY: Where can the Museum obtain photographs for catalog reproduction and publicity?", the owner of the painting, Miss Athena Kalimos, Berkeley, had given the following answer, "Glenn Wessels." Consequently, assuming that this meant that you had in your possession a negative from which regular size (8 x 10") black and white glossy prints could be made, we ordered these from you.

However, since you have only a Kodachrome slide, we may decide to have the painting photographed in our warehouse. This expense would be covered by us.

Once more, I regret the confusion, and also want to tell you how grateful we are for being able to include your Red Marsh Twilight in our exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of a form labelled Photogrpah Order from your institution which I am at loss to interpret.

It concerns two glossy photos of my painting WESSELS: Red Marsh Twilight 1961 and under price " about $1.00 each" is indicated. There is a notation, "Please send by air-mail".

This does not seem to be the usual form of bill or invoice, but rather an order from one of your departments to another.

But why send it to me unless I am supposed to take some action concerning it? Does it mean that I owe you "about $1.00 each" for two glossy photographs to be taken of my painting? If so, I shall mail a check as soon as I am informed of the exact amount.

Or does it indicate that you wish me to furnish two glossies of the painting? This I cannot do, because the painting is already shipped and I have only a Kodachrome slide of it. So if you want 8 x 10 glossies for some purpose you will have to take them there. If I am to pay for them I shall gladly do so when I am told the amount.

I suppose this photograph order means that the photos will be used either for your records or for some publication. I should like to know, just out of curiosity, how they are to be used.

In any case let me know what is expected of me and I shall co-operate if I can.

Yours very truly,

GLENN A. WESSELS

PS I should be glad to send a check now, just on the chance that that is what you want, but I do not know how to make out one for "about $1.00 each!" GW

Dear Mrs. Kalimos:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Glenn Wessels: Red Marsh Twilight, 1961.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. I understand from Professor Herschel B. Chipp that the picture already has been shipped via Railway Express Collect to our warehouse, Santini Brothers, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York and is due to arrive during the week starting March 11.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

The Kootz Gallery has asked me to make special arrangements to return the Hofmann painting, BIRD CAGE VARIATION II. 1958 (MMA 63.594), to their quarters as soon as possible after it returns to the warehouse and has been checked by the Registrar. It has been committed to an exhibition in Mexico in May and will be picked up at the Gallery as soon as we are able to return it.

If there isn't time to have all of the Kootz loans ready to return at the same time, I think you should definitely plan to send this one back separately. (They aren't interested in buying our "L" frame, so please remove it and return the painting in the original Kootz strip which is still on the work.)

Dear Mr. Kootz:

I wanted to follow up our brief telephone conversation of this morning regarding the Hofmann sales price changes you asked us to make in your letter to Mr. Rasmussen of March 27. I checked our files immediately after speaking to you and found that we notified the Joe & Emily Lowe Art Gallery in Coral Gables of these changes the day after we received your letter. A copy of our communication is enclosed for your records.

As I mentioned, I called simply to determine if you also wanted us to increase the insurance valuations for these four works, which I now understand you feel is unnecessary. We had thought, since you originally asked that these works be insured at 2/3 of the sales price, that the change in price would have to be reflected in the insurance value as well. I understand also that Blue Monolith, originally listed as "not for sale" on the loan form signed by Mr. Hofmann is now available at the $18,500. price you indicated.

As I told you on the phone today, the prices on the Hofmann paintings that are touring in the show "Hofmann and His Students" are very much under current prices and I have had a long distance call from our Florida agent, who is very disturbed about this.

Will you be so kind as to write to Mr. Gus Freundlich of the Lowe Gallery at the University of Miami that the prices of four of the Hofmann paintings should be as follows:

"Birdcage Variation II"	$15,000.00
"Morning Mist"	$12,000.00
"California, Land of Bliss and Wonder"	$16,000.00
"Blue Monolith"	$18,500.00

As well, I wish you would be very careful to see to it that the other places to which these pictures are going are also acquainted with these prices.

Many thanks for your immediate attention to this.

Dear Mr. Kootz:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Hans Hofmann: Bird Cage Variation II, 1958.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting April 1, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mr. Kotin:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Dear Miss Krasner:

I am writing, somewhat belatedly, to express once again our appreciation for the loan of your Primeval Resurgence to our circulating exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS, and to enclose our Registrar's Receipt of Delivery which, for some unaccountable reason, was not forwarded immediately after the painting had been returned to your storage area at Santini Bros.' warehouse in October.

As Mr. Palmer mentioned in his letter of April 16th, we were very sorry that you were unable to permit us to keep the painting beyond the original loan period, and we regretted extremely having to remove it from the exhibition. For your information and records, I am listing below the itinerary for the portion of the tour during which your painting was in the exhibition:

Dear Miss Krasner:

Thank you for your letter of March 23. I was, of course, sorry to learn that you could not consider extending the loan of your painting to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition owing to your plans to include it in your show at the Whitechapel Art Gallery next year.

The painting will be returned to our warehouse along with the rest of the exhibition sometime in July, 1964 and we would be happy to have it delivered to you or to your gallery after it has been checked by our Registrar. When it is convenient, I hope you will give me further instructions for its delivery. We would then make the necessary arrangements to deliver it at a time which would be convenient.

After your painting is withdrawn, we shall give you further details about the tour and the exact dates of each showing.

Dear Mr. Loran:

I am writing in regard to your painting, PRESAGE, which you so generously made available for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. The exhibition is scheduled to end its tour early this month and we expect it to reach New York, where all loans will be checked by our Registrar and prepared for dispersal to their owners beginning in May.

So that we may return your loan as soon as it is ready, I would appreciate it if you would note on the enclosed postal card the exact address to which it should be delivered.

As you may recall, we requested and received your permission when we originally borrowed your work, to construct a new frame for it. If you are interested in purchasing this new frame, which is a heavier strip frame painted white, we could make it available to you at a special discount price of $30. Would you kindly note your decision about the frame on the card as well. We would bill you for it after the painting has been returned to you if you decide to purchase it.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

(Miss) Erwin Wassum

Dear Mr. Loran:

I am writing to thank you for extending your loan to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. Our requests for extensions met with the almost unanimous approval of the other artists and lenders whose works are included in the show and we have therefore begun to plan the tour which will run through April, 1965.

I shall plan to give you further details about the complete itinerary after the exhibition is returned to New York next spring, following its final showing.

Dear Mr. Loran:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Dear Mike:

It is a real shock to hear that your painting included in the exhibition Hans Hofmann and His Students, circulated by The Museum of Modern Art, was never returned. As you can imagine, this is a question that has nothing to do with me any longer but is the responsibility of the Department of Circulating Exhibitions of The Museum of Modern Art. May I suggest that you write or call Waldo Rasmussen, director of that department at the Museum immediately.

I remember your painting, January, well, and am most concerned that you get it back in good condition.

If I can be of any further assistance, do not hesitate to call on me.

With best regards,

William C. Seitz

RPalmer called Mr. Loew Nov. 8 and left a message with a friend who answered the phone that Mr. Loew's painting, January, had been returned in August, 1965 to the Stable Gallery. Also asked Mr. Loew to call me on Monday if he had further questions. Will follow up them in writing, sending copy to Seitz.

Dear Mr. Loran:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Presage, 1963.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. I understand from Professor Herschel B. Chipp that the picture already has been shipped via Railway Express Collect to our warehouse, Santini Brothers, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York and is due to arrive during the week starting March 11.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

I am very sorry for the delay in sending you the enclosed invoice, especially considering that your painting Untitled by Miles Forst was returned to you some time ago, but this is due to a change in staff here in our department since the early summer.

Naturally, we hope very much that you will permit us to keep your painting in the show also.

If it is more convenient, you could let me know by phone if you agree to the extension. I could then send you a duplicate of the Loan Amendment form which Mr. Rasmussen enclosed with his letter of February 21 in the event you might have misplaced it since we require a signed form for our records.

Dear Mrs. Matter:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Still Life, 1960 (42 x 50").

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 25, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mr. Schlageter:

Unfortunately, we have just noticed in going through our files that we never wrote you or Mr. Richter after the close of our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition to thank you for the loan of the Muller: Triumph in the Sun. The painting was returned to Mr. Richter in Long Island on November 19, 1965, at a time when my assistant on this exhibition was away from the Museum.

The exhibition had an extremely successful tour and, due to the one-year loan extension, it was possible to offer at least five additional showings. For your information, I have listed below the institutions in which the exhibition was shown during its two-year tour.

International House Denver, Colorado	May 6 - May 27, 1963

Dear Mr. Schlageter:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? Dear Waldo;

Please have the Stefanelli painting that we loaned to the Hans Hofmann Students show delivered to Mike Kanemitsu's studio, 158 West 22nd street. As we no longer represent Stefanelli, and this particular painting belongs to him we do not want to have it delivered to the gallery. Stefanelli is in Princetonduring the week so he has arranged to have Kanemitsu accept the painting at his studio which is in the same building as Stefanelli's.

Sincerely,

Hal Fondren

Dear Mrs. Poindexter:

I am writing to thank you for extending your loan to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. Our requests for extensions met with the almost unanimous approval of the other artists and lenders whose works are included in the show and we have therefore begun to plan the tour which will run through April, 1965.

I shall plan to give you further details about the complete itinerary after the exhibition is returned to New York next spring, following its final showing.

Dear Mr. Harris:

Your letter of January 2 to Mr. Rasmussen, Director of this department, has been referred to me for reply.

I am afraid that your sculpture, The Bride was not professionally photographed before the exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS left our warehouse for its tour. We can only supply a polaroid shot, taken under very bad conditions and for identification purposes only. I regret not being able to be of more help.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Poindexter:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

Paul Harris: The Bride
Instructions for installation from Poindexter Gallery
March 22, 1943.

The collapsible, Bride, should be hung by four strands of invisible wire or cord which passes through four screw eyes in the top most wooden circle. When hung correctly the lowest section is about eight inches from the floor. The total height is about 9 feet.

The wooden parts are well made of stout wood, glued and screwed together. Care must be taken, nevertheless, in handling that the sections are not knocked together or dropped. The Bride is too awkward and heavy to be installed by one person working alone.

When packed the two largest wood circles are tied to one another by strong black cord. The circles do not coincide but should be tied wherever they cross. When installing the Bride do not untie these strings until the sculpture is hung. When taking down tie again before removing from position. Please place clean paper under the sculpture when installing or removing. DO NOT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES CUT ANY WHITE STRINGS.

Sale price: $2,000.
Insurance price: $2,000.

Mrs. George Poindexter
Director
Poindexter Gallery

Dear Mrs. Poindexter:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Joseph Stefanelli: Wednesday, 1958.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 11. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Stephen:

I am terribly sorry that I neglected to write you at the close of the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition to thank you for the loan of the Mary Frank: The Dream. My assistant in charge of dispersing the exhibition was away on vacation at the time the sculpture was returned to Miss Frank and has just now uncovered the Receipt of Delivery which was our Registrar's notice that the loan had been returned. Please be assured that this oversight in no way diminishes our appreciation to you and Miss Frank for lending her sculpture to our exhibition.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Rankine:

I am writing in regard to your loan, Goodnough: CIRCLE #3, which you so generously made available for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. The exhibition is scheduled to end its tour early this month and we expect it to reach New York, where all loans will be checked by our Registrar and prepared for dispersal to their owners beginning in May.

So that we may return your loan as soon as it is ready, I would appreciate it if you would note on the enclosed postal card the exact address to which it should be delivered.

As you may know from the Tibor de Nagy Gallery, we requested and received permission when we originally borrowed the work to construct a new frame for it. If you are interested in purchasing this new frame, which is 1/8" aluminum strip, we could make it available to you at a special discount price of $20. Would you kindly note your decision about the frame on the card as well. We would bill you for it after the painting has been returned to you if you decide to purchase it.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Dear Mrs. Rankine:

I am writing to confirm our telephone conversation of early last week in which you requested that your Robert Goodnough painting, Circle III, be returned to you in Washington. I was, of course, sorry to learn that you could not extend its loan to us for the remainder of the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition's tour, but I do understand your eagerness to have it returned, especially since you have never had it in your possession.

I think we will probably be able to replace your painting with a Goodnough work from our permanent collection, so the exhibition will not be without a Goodnough after all.

Listed below are the names of the institutions and the dates of the showings of the exhibition in which your Goodnough painting was included:

International House Denver, Colorado	May 6-27, 1963
Michigan State University East Lansing, Michigan	July 1-22
Akron Art Institute Akron, Ohio	September 3-28
Indiana University Bloomington, Indiana	October 11-November 2

University of North Carolina Greensboro, North Carolina	March 17-April 7
Ohio University Athens, Ohio	April 21-May 12
University of South Florida Tampa, Florida	June 1-22

Arrangements are now being made to prepare your painting for its return to you at the above address and it should be on its way within the next week or so. As soon as it leaves New York, we will send our Receipt

As you requested, we shall ask that the carrier call your residence before attempting to deliver the painting to insure that someone will be there to receive it.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Rankine:

I regret that we have not been in touch with you long before now about the Robert Goodnough painting, Circle III, which you so generously agreed to loan to us for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS circulating exhibition. Until late last week, it was my understanding that we had been in touch with all the lenders to this exhibition last February, both to report on the tour and to investigate the possibility of extending the loan period for an additional ten-month period. Our Registrar notified me last week, to my dismay, that we had somehow neglected to contact you about this matter and I hope you will accept my apology for this oversight. Unfortunately, the staff member who was in charge of processing my earlier letters failed to note that you had purchased the Goodnough painting from the Tibor de Nagy Gallery.

During the first year of its circulation, the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition had an extremely successful tour and I have listed below the institutions in which it was shown:

International House	Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University	East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute	Akron, Ohio
Indiana University	Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University	Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art	Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association	Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina	Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University	Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida	Tampa, Florida

Since we received several requests for the show from our subscribers which could not be accommodated in the original loan period, which ended in June of this year, we decided to extend the tour, providing the lenders to the show were agreeable. To date, we have been most fortunate in extending all of the paintings, with one exception, and I hope you may consider this request favorably also, even though we are so late in making it.

We would be most grateful if you could extend your loan from July 1964 through April 1965 in order to permit us to include it in the exhibition's future showings. In the hope you will do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate, of which you could sign and return the original, green copy to signify your approval. The duplicate, white copy should be retained for your own records. All the provisions specified on the original

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Rankine:

The Tibor de Nagy Gallery has informed us of your having purchased the Robert Goodnough painting Circle III which they originally lent us for our circulating exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS. We are most grateful to you for letting us keep the picture in the exhibition, and would like to give you some information about it.

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions has prepared an exhibition of 48 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition also includes a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections were made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions.

The exhibition is being shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works are insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records.

We are, of course, responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Inasmuch as a major exhibition of Hofmann's work will be held at The Museum of Modern Art next fall, interest in this exhibition of his former students is high. We are most grateful for your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Waldo Rasmussen

Dear Mr. Richter:

Please accept my apologies for not sending you a letter of thanks until now for lending to the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition, which was circulated throughout the United States from May 1963 through June 1965. It has been a very careless oversight on our part and I would like you to know that it in no way lessens our appreciation to you for your part in making the exhibition such a success. In fact, the exhibition had an unprecedented number of showings in the two years it circulated throughout the country and we were extremely grateful that all the lenders found it possible to extend their loans an additional year after the initial period of loan expired.

For your information and interest, I have listed below the institutions in which the exhibition was shown during its two-year tour:

International House Denver, Colorado	May 6 - May 27, 1963
Michigan State University East Lansing, Michigan	July 1 - July 22, 1963

Dear Mr. Richter:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

I have also been in telephone contact with Mr. Schlageter giving him the same information.

Regarding the Stankiewicz Family Group, which we requested for our circulating exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS EARLIER, I can inform you that the Stable Gallery suggests $2,500. as the value it should be insured for. I hope we may receive the original of our loan agreement form for this sculpture at your earliest convenience.

I understand my assistant, Diana Hallowell, phoned your gallery today to ask if you had decided to buy the L-shape travelling frame for the Carone, which is now in your storage area at Santini's warehouse. Since the gentleman on the phone confirmed this, we are enclosing our invoice in the amount of $20. Please have the remittance made payable to The Museum of Modern Art.

May I thank you again for your valuable assistance which enabled us to include this important exhibition in our national circulating program. Would you please sign the enclosed Receipts of Delivery and return it in the envelope provided?

Dear Mrs. Ward:

I am writing to thank you for extending your loan to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. Our requests for extensions met with the almost unanimous approval of the other artists and lenders whose works are included in the show and we have therefore begun to plan the tour which will run through April, 1965.

I shall plan to give you further details about the complete itinerary after the exhibition is returned to New York next spring, following its final showing.

Dear Mrs. Ward:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

Dear Mrs. Ward:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Nicolas Carone: Painting S-16 19-136, oil on canvas, 40 x 49".

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records.

It is my understanding that the painting already is in our warehouse, Santini Brothers, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mr Sidy

I understand you are planning a show of the work of ex-Hofmann students. I was painting monitor at the Hofmann School 1947-50, and also monitor at the Summer School for two summers. The time of my studies at the school Hofmann had a very high opinion of me, and I think my work and ideas were influential in the development of several of my fellow students.

Three pictures (enclosed) are worth a thousand words. I have work at the Wondale Gallery - 929 Madison - where I had a one-man show last month, and also at the East Hampton Gallery - 22 W 56 St.

Please try to see my work.

Dear Mrs. Titelman:

I am writing in regard to your painting, Beauchamp: TITELMAN'S NUDES, which you so generously made available for inclusion in our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. The exhibition is scheduled to end its tour early this month and we expect it to reach New York, where all loans will be checked by our Registrar and prepared for dispersal to their owners beginning in May.

So that we may return your loan as soon as it is ready, I would appreciate it if you would note on the enclosed postal card the exact address to which it should be delivered.

As you may recall, we requested and received your permission when we originally borrowed your work, to construct a new frame for it. If you are interested in purchasing this new frame, which is an "L" type frame with an outer walnut moulding, we could make it available to you at a special discount price of $25. Would you kindly note your decision about the frame on the card as well. We would bill you for it after the painting has been returned to you if you decide to purchase it.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

I understand that the Beauchamp painting has already been removed by you yesterday.

I have left unanswered some of the questions contained in your Loan Agreement, specifically under the caption Date of Work. You asked, Does the date appear on the work and if so where. Will you please check this as I do not remember if this information appears on the painting. Under Signature, the work is signed but again, I do not recall in what position. Also, I do not have available the size of the painting but I am sure this can be checked by you without too much difficulty.

Dear Mr. Vytlacil:

I am writing to thank you for extending your loan to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. Our requests for extensions met with the almost unanimous approval of the other artists and lenders whose works are included in the show and we have therefore begun to plan the tour which will run through April, 1965.

I shall plan to give you further details about the complete itinerary after the exhibition is returned to New York next spring, following its final showing.

Mr. Vaclav Vytlacil
Sparkill, New York

Dear Mr. Vytlacil:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

Dear Mr. Seitz: First, let me show my appreciation for your two kind and friendly letters that reached me just before we left Jamaica - it seems to me that we have reached a pleasant understanding, perhaps even a clarity of our kind of emotion, but also agreeable and pleasant.

Secondly, and in response to your standing invitation for the 17th, I am pleased to be able to say that my wife and I shall be happy to be there. You may be interested to know, that my wife has been a former Hofmann student -

I shall, then, look forward to meeting you on the 17th and to the beginning of a pleasant acquaintanceship.

Best Wishes for the Show!

Dear Mr. Vytlacil:

Yesterday I visited Sparkhill and selected a picture for the Hofmann exhibition. With Mrs. Bradbury's assistance I went through all of the work you indicated in your letter. Many of the Mexican gouaches interested me very much, and though it is perhaps just a matter of personal taste, some of them were more exciting to me than Mexican Figure.

However, inasmuch as the group exhibition is going to be made up almost entirely of fairly large oils and sculpture, I felt that gouaches would not fit in the exhibition nearly as well as an oil. I selected Out of the Rockies, 26x38", 1952. It is a beautiful picture and I think it should add a great deal to the exhibition. We are making arrangements with Mrs. Bradbury about collecting it, but need a valuation for insurance purposes.

In reference to the gouaches, which I think would make a handsome exhibition, you may be interested in my opinion that, though the plastic covering is a good protection and offers a way of initially viewing them, it would be much better to frame them under glass for a gallery showing. The plastic covering takes broken reflections and weakens the impact of the images, it seems to me.

Mrs. Bradbury was extremely cooperative. You should be happy to have such a good neighbor.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Vytlacil:

May I tell you how pleased I am that you were not offended by what might have appeared to be my high handedness in relation to your work. Mrs. Bradbury and I had quite a long talk during which I told her how highly I regard you as an artist, and that I had been familiar with your reputation as a teacher at the Art Students League and that I had seen several of your exhibitions in New York. It could very well be that after visiting your studio I will return to the Mexican Figure. However, even though you do not necessarily agree with my desire to see more things, you will realize on deliberation that in selecting an exhibition one wishes to have as many alternatives as possible, and especially to be able to make the selection oneself.

Because I have spent many years active only as a painter I am especially sensitive to avoid doing anything with an artist's work which he does not wish done, so I therefore wish to consult the artist as much as possible. At the same time this makes me realize where my responsibilities and prerogatives lie in assembling an exhibition.

I shall make an appointment with Mrs. Bradbury at her convenience to visit your studio next week. I assure you that I shall observe your instructions scupulously in looking at the work.

May I thank you again for your cooperation and look forward to seeing you on your return. Perhaps you may be back for the warehouse showing of the exhibition just before it goes on tour. It will take place around April 12th.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Vytlacil:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Mexican Figure, 1962 (23 x 36").

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 4, 1963.

We will, of course be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Inasmuch as a major exhibition of Hofmann's work will be held at The Museum of Modern Art next fall, interest in this exhibition of his former

Dear Mr. Gordon:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Nell Blaine, Harbor and Green Cloth, II.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 48th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 4, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Dear Mr. Wise:

I am writing to thank you for extending your loan to our HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition. Our requests for extensions met with the almost unanimous approval of the other artists and lenders whose works are included in the show and we have therefore begun to plan the tour which will run through April, 1965.

I shall plan to give you further details about the complete itinerary after the exhibition is returned to New York next spring, following its final showing.

Mr. Howard Wise, Dir.
Howard Wise Gallery
50 West 57th Street
New York, New York

Dear Mr. Wise:

We are currently in the process of planning our national circulating exhibitions program for the 1964-65 season and are hoping it will be possible to carry over several exhibitions whose loan periods are due to expire in June 1964. Of these exhibitions, HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS has been exceptionally successful during the past year, and we have had more requests for the exhibition than we were able to fill. By the end of June, 1964 the exhibition will have been shown at the following institutions:

International House - Denver, Colorado
Michigan State University - East Lansing, Michigan
Akron Art Institute - Akron, Ohio
Indiana University - Bloomington, Indiana
Auburn University - Auburn, Alabama
Hunter Gallery of Art - Chattanooga, Tennessee
Richmond Artists Association - Richmond, Virginia
University of North Carolina - Greensboro, North Carolina
Ohio University - Athens, Ohio
University of South Florida - Tampa, Florida

We would be most grateful if you could consider extending your loan to the exhibition for an additional ten months - from July 1964 through April 1965 - in order to permit us to schedule further showings. In the hope you will be willing to do so, I have enclosed a Loan Amendment form in duplicate; if you agree to this proposal, would you kindly sign and date the original green copy before returning it to this office in the enclosed return envelope? The white copy should be retained for your own records. All of the provisions specified on the original Loan Agreement form would remain in effect and we will continue to insure your loan and to safeguard it until its return to you at the end of the new loan period.

I shall look forward to hearing from you and want to take this opportunity to tell you how much we and the exhibitors who have already shown the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition appreciate your participation in the exhibition.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen
Executive Director

Exhibitions

Professor Herschel B. Chipp
Director
University Art Gallery
University of California
Berkeley 4, California

Dear Professor Chipp:

I am writing you in regard to the painting by Karl Kasten, Marengo, 1963 which we received in our warehouse together with the paintings by Haley, Loran and Wessels, all of which you so kindly selected for our circulating exhibition HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS.

Immediately upon arrival of the paintings, however, our registrar noted that the Kasten was definitely too wet for traveling with our exhibition, and our restorer, after having looked at it for the second time this week, agrees with Mr. Seitz that we should not risk including this painting in our exhibition, which will have to be shipped to the first exhibitor much too soon for the painting to have reached a stage of dryness required for its safety.

This, unfortunately, leaves us no other choice than to exclude Marengo from our exhibition. We regret this exceedingly, but since the show is now being packed and must be shipped for its first booking very soon, I am afraid there is nothing we can do. We would be most grateful for your discussing this matter with the artist, and advise us as to his wished for returning the painting to him. I strongly suggest that we keep it in our warehouse for some time, in order for it to dry somewhat more before returning it to California. Fortunately, in spite of its wet condition it arrived here safely.

I hope to hear from you in this matter before long.

Sincerely,

Waldo Rasmussen

March 7, 1963

Mr. Michael Goldberg
222 Bowery Street
New York, New York

Dear Mike:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Untitled painting, 1963, oil on canvas, 50 x 40".

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We would need to receive all loans at Santini Brothers Warehouse, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York during the week starting March 11, 1963. If this loan is agreeable to you, our Assembly Coordinator will be in touch with you to arrange for collecting the work.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Waldo Rasmussen

Mr. William Seitz, Curator
The Museum of Modern Art
New York

Dear Mr. Seitz:

I wish to express my thanks for your permitting me to send a second painting for inclusion in the Hofmann and His Students exhibition. I regret the inconvenience caused by my first entry which your staff found to be insufficiently dry. Following your suggestion I consulted with Erle Loran in seloting the second entry (Herschel Chipp had left town for the Easter recess) which is titled "HIGH SEA" and should arrive in ample time for the showing on April 17th.

Sincerely yours,

cc: Miss Potoker

Dear Mr. Kasten:

I am herewith sending you our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate for your Promontory, 1962, the painting you are sending us as a substitute for Marengo, which unfortunately had to be excluded from the HANS HOFMANN AND HIS STUDENTS exhibition because of its too wet condition.

If, by any chance, another painting than Promontory will be finally chosen by you and Professor Chipp, please change the loan form accordingly.

We are happy to be able to include an example of your work in our exhibition.

Sincerely yours,

(Mrs.) Berit Potoker

Mr. Karl Kasten
1884 San Lorenzo Avenue

Dear Mr. Kasten:

Hans Hofmann may well be the most influential painting teacher of this century. The impact of his dynamic teaching in Munich, California, Provincetown and New York, especially on American art of the postwar period, has been incalculable. He has inspired two generations of American painters and sculptors.

As an homage to this great teacher who is also one of our most profound, ebullient and monumental artists, the Department of Circulating Exhibitions is preparing an exhibition of works by 44 of the most fully developed artists who have studied with him. The exhibition will also include a group of major works by Hofmann himself. The selections are being made by William C. Seitz, Associate Curator of Painting and Sculpture Exhibitions, who very much hopes to include your Marengo, 1963.

The exhibition will be shown in museums and university galleries in the United States and Canada from May 1963 through June 1964. The works will be insured from wall-to-wall under our regular fine-arts policy at the values specified by the lenders. In the hope that you will be willing to grant our request, I am enclosing our Loan Agreement Form in duplicate, asking that you sign and return the original to this office, retaining the duplicate for your records. We understand from Professor Herschel B. Chipp that the picture already has been shipped via Railway Express Collect to our warehouse, Santini Brothers, 447 West 49th Street, New York 19, New York, and is due to arrive during the week starting March 11.

We will, of course, be responsible for all costs of packing and transportation, and expert supervision of packing and installation is assured for each of the showings.

Inasmuch as a major exhibition of Hofmann's work will be held at The Museum of Modern Art next fall, interest in this exhibition of his former students should be high. I hope we may have your cooperation.
