Re: State of Stieglitz Collection

From: MA

Just for your information:
All extraneous material has now been returned from the Stieglitz Collection exhibition (i.e. - original frames, glass and mats - see 6/27/47 release) and all unexhibited items.

All items in the exhibition are to remain just as they are when being returned with the exception of some of the Demuth, Dove and O'Keeffe paintings. These paintings are to have glass replaced on them. Harry is storing same (see my memo to Harry, cc DD of June 25th, also copy in folder)

I imagine the photographs will have the glass, passepartout and cardboard backings removed so that they may be stored in photo. cases, but this will have to be checked before close of show.

On second thought, the photographs may remain just as they are as Georgia has mentioned to me several times (as though I should know all about it and it were all settled and arranged, so I've not contradicted her) that of course the entire exhibition was going to Chicago after it closed here. What arrangements have been made about this, I don't know, and no one in this department has been enlightened. Any information re this subject will, I suppose, in due course of time, come from Mr. Wheeler's office and I wouldn't be surprised if he didn't know too much about what Georgia has decidéd yet.

Re: Stieglitz Collection - frames and glass to be held at the Museum

Miss O'Keeffe has asked that we retain the pieces of glass which were removed from some of the paintings in the Collection Stieglitz as she will want glass replaced on them when they go to Chicago.

Will you therefore please remove the glass from the following frames if necessary, or store the pieces of glass with the metal braces:

Geofgia spoke to me this afternoon to tell me that she had talked to Mrs. Keck and she showed me which paintings she wanted sprayed. They are the following:

47.176 Demuth: Ventilators, tempera
47.177 " : Machinery, tempera } no - to be put under glass

These two are tempera and Miss O'Keeffe said to ask Mr. Keck his opinion as to whether or not they should be sprayed. If he says OK, go ahead.

47.180 Demuth: I Saw the Figure 5 in Gold, oil on composition board

Re: Stieglitz Collection - frames and glass to be held at the Museum

Miss O'Keeffe has asked that we retain the pieces of glass which were removed from some of the paintings in the Collection Stieglitz as she will want glass replaced on them when they go to Chicago.

Will you therefore please remove the glass from the following frames if necessary, or store the pieces of glass with the metal braces:

47.177 Remove glass from frame & store (Demuth)

Please hold unidentified brace for a painting - size c. 20-3/8x28-3/8" which I cannot at the moment put with a painting. It probably belongs to a Dove or an O'Keeffe, but I can't find one just that size right now.

Re: Demuth, Severini & Rivera paintings to be sprayed by Mr. Keck for Miss O'Keeffe

Confirming our arrangement, Mr. Keck will be at the Museum on Monday morning, June 16th, between 10 and 10:30 A.M. to spray some paintings from the Stieglitz Collection. He will need the use of the spray room for the remainder of the morning, I should imagine.

The following are the paintings which Miss O'Keeffe would like Mr. Keck to spray for her, and Harry can get them from the gallery Monday morning and take them to the shop for him.

47.180 Demuth: I Saw the Figure 5 in Gold, oil on composition board
47.181 " : Longhi on Broadway, oil on composition board
47.183 " : Buildings, oil on composition board
47.624 " : Business, oil on canvas
47.630 " : .... And the home of the Brave, oil on composition board

Dove: Reasonable facsimile - tempera

These two following are tempera and Miss O'Keeffe wishes Mr. Keck to look at them to see if he thinks they should be done:

should be put under glass

47.176 Demuth: ~~Ventilators~~ Waiting - tempera
47.177 " : Machinery, tempera

— glass notified Mr. Wheeler.

The following are also to be shown Mr. Keck to see if he thinks they should be done:

No

47.115 Rivera: Le Sucrier et Les Bougies, oil on canvas dusty
47.116 " : La Terrasse du cafe, oil on canvas
47.238 " : Portrait of Madame Marcoussis, oil on canvas
47.622 Severini: Mother and Child, oil on canvas - Too dirty to do with - out cleaning first ok.

Miss O'Keeffe asked that Mr. Keck be sure to put a label on the back of each painting he treated saying what had been done to the painting and the date.

Last year Mr. Keck sprayed the following painting for Miss O'Keeffe and she would also like him to put a label on the back describing what was done to the painting and date:

Label

47.613 Demuth: Calla Lilies, oil on composition board

Sprayed with butyl methacrylate polymer April 1947 by Keck

Harry: I am attaching a sheet of stickers which you may give to Mr. Keck for use. He can put the information Miss O'Keeffe wishes on it and they can be stuck to the stretchers or backs of the paintings.

Miss O'Keeffe has consented to have a silk screen color reproduction made of her painting "White Canadian Barn No. 2" by Mr. Albert Urban of 42 Washington Square South, New York 12, AL 4-0062. Mr. Urban is picking up the painting this afternoon and will have it in his studio until June 1 when he will bring it to the Museum for the Stieglitz exhibition. Miss O'Keeffe is mailing us today the green form for the insurance which we are to carry on the painting so I shall not know the amount until the letter arrives. However, the painting has been here twice before and perhaps an amount can be taken from the old forms until her letter arrives.

Re: Dove frame changes, etc.
for Stieglitz exhibition

The following changes are to be made in the Dove paintings according to Miss O'Keeffe ;

To be reframed by Miss O'Keeffe's framer:

47.185 Dove: Pagan Philosophy, pastel
47.186 " : Cow, gouache or oil on linen
47.188 " : Rain, twigs and rubber cement on metal and glass
47.190 " : Monkey Fur, corroded metal, monkey fur, tinfoil, cloth on metal
47.192 " : Telegraph Pole, oil on aluminum
47.193 " : Goat, oil on canvas

The framer was here this morning and took measurements for all the above.

To be rematted or mounted - without frames, just passepartout; Miss O'Keeffe to come to the Museum early next week and tell Gus what she wants:

47.194 Dove: Raking Pig, watercolor
47.195 " : There was a Cat somewhere, wash
47.196 " : Raking Hay, watercolor, pen and ink

Re: Dove size changes, grames, etc.

I thought you might like to give this information to Jim Sweeney when he comes in next time since it involves a catalog change in size:

47.192 Dove: Telegraph Pole, oil on aluminum was unframed while Miss O'Keeffe was here this morning. Harry and I had measured the wood panel on which the aluminum piece is tacked since we could not find any other measurement. However, upon unframing it, the aluminum piece is some smaller than the wood panel on which it rests.

The size of this painting should therefore read
28-3/8 x 20-3/8"
(Former 29½x21¼")

This is the painting for which Miss O'Keeffe wants a stretcher made the size of the aluminum panel.

Mr. Newhall

Mr. Barr

Dear Beaumont:

I went last Friday to see Stieglitz to talk about the one-man-show of his photography next year. I found that someone, presumably O'Keeffe or McAlpin, had already spoken to him so that he had the matter in mind. He was very much interested in the idea and is going to work on it. He was much relieved that we did not expect him to show in the fall.

I offered all the help the Museum could give but he seemed uncertain as to how he could use any help, except possibly secretarial. I think, however, that you might go to see him and offer to keep in touch with him.

I assured him that the Museum would do everything in its power to provide facilities for perfect exhibition and a fine catalog.

It occurs to me that it might be exciting to run next summer simultaneous exhibitions of Stieglitz, Frank Lloyd Wright and D. W. Griffith, each of whom is I suppose the most distinguished American master of his art. This would not mean that the shows would open at the same time. I am writing our Exhibitions Committee, also John and Iris about this.

Dear Mr. Rich:

Thank you for having Miss Lutz telephone us Monday morning in answer to our letter of August 22. Confirming her conversation with Miss Hedges, I understand that the entire Stieglitz Exhibition, both photographs and collection, is to go to Chicago following our New York showing. It will be collected by Budworth for packing and shipping to you Railway Express Collect. We further understand, that you will write Budworth giving them instructions. As we wrote you, to wrap each oil painting individually, as Miss O'Keeffe has asked, will take our shops at least a week. We should, therefore, be ready for Budworth to collect by September 15, or possibly the 12th. The photographs should be ready for collection shortly after the closing, September 21.

As you requested, we enclose checklists of the exhibition in triplicate with insurance values noted. The following three photographs were borrowed from the Metropolitan Museum of Art:

47.606 Kasebier, Gertrude
47.607 Sears, Mrs. J. Montgomery
47.608 White, Charence H.

When you have secured permission to borrow them, will you please let us know, so we may include them in the shipment to you.

AIR MAIL

Dear Miss Lutz:

When we phoned Mr. Rich this afternoon we learned that both he and Mr. Sweet are on vacation. I imagine that is why we have had no reply to Miss Dudley's telegram of August 19th, requesting immediate shipping instructions regarding the Stieglitz Collection.

The exhibition closes here August 31st. We understand from Miss O'Keeffe that it is to go to Chicago, and will be collected for packing and shipping by Budworth.

Will you please let me know early next week which items from the exhibition are going to Chicago. Also we have not heard when Budworth will collect. Miss O'Keeffe has asked that we have the oil paintings wrapped separately with corrugated board before being turned over to Budworth for boxing. It would probably take our shops a week to do this.

If you have not already written, will you please phone us Monday morning.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Monawee:

Adele will tell you that Monroe has heard from Miss O'Keefe that the Stieglitz will eventually go to Chicago.

Adele will be able to supervise the dismantling.

I hope Monroe will be in touch with Dan Rich before the end of the month and find out whether Budworth can collect the exhibit as soon as it closes. We will have to hold it here if Budworth does not collect right away, since Miss Brie will be away on vacation until about September 12th.

Dear Mr. Rich:

I am very sorry you did not receive copies of the lists of photographs I thought were sent you August 27th. The correct number were together when I checked them before sending them to be mailed. Somewhere along the way they must have been separated, though so far a careful check has not revealed them here.

I sent off the two additional copies of photographs to you immediately upon receiving your letter and did not have time to put on our loan numbers opposite the titles for identification. I am, therefore, enclosing one more list of photographs with our recorded numbers.

A copy of each section of the exhibition check-lists was mailed to Budworth today as you requested.

I have your letter of September 5 enclosing two mimeographed lists of the Stieglitz photographs. We have been in the dark about the photographs because you evidently overlooked to enclose lists of the Stieglitz photographs in your letter of August 27. The lists we received this morning are the first we have seen of the group of 98 photographs. I believe everything is clear now.

Since we need all of the lists you have sent us, not only of the paintings but also of the photographs, would you be so kind as to supply W. S. Budworth and Son with copies of lists of the entire collection coming to us so that they can use them in checking and packing?

Dear Miss Allen:

Thank you for your letter of August 27 enclosing the Stieglitz Exhibition lists showing the insurance valuation of each work. We will have our insurance policy, covering the sculpture, paintings and drawings, in effect as of September 12, the date on which Budworth will probably start collecting.

In his recent letter Mr. Budworth states that he understood from Miss Dudley there would be 8 pieces of sculpture, 130 paintings and drawings, and 110 photographs for shipment to us. The lists you sent us indicate only 8 photographs under the title of Photo-Secession Group. If other photographs, in addition to those listed, are coming to us, may we have the titles and individual valuations for insurance purposes? We will then be glad to insure them as of September 29.

We have decided not to borrow the three photographs #47.606, #47.607 and #47.608 from the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Will you, therefore, kindly exclude them from the rest of the material being shipped to us.

Mr. Budworth has written me that he has spoken to Miss Dudley about collecting the material and that he will wait for further instructions from her.

Dear Mr. Rich:

Thank you for having Miss Lutz telephone us Monday morning in answer to our letter of August 22. Confirming her conversation with Miss Hedges, I understand that the entire Stieglitz Exhibition, both photographs and collection, is to go to Chicago following our New York showing. It will be collected by Budworth for packing and shipping to you Railway Express Collect. We further understand, that you will write Budworth giving them instructions. As we wrote you, to wrap each oil painting individually, as Miss O'Keeffe has asked, will take our shops at least a week. We should, therefore, be ready for Budworth to collect by September 15, or possibly the 12th. The photographs should be ready for collection shortly after the closing, September 21.

As you requested, we enclose checklists of the exhibition in triplicate with insurance values noted. The following three photographs were borrowed from the Metropolitan Museum of Art:

47.606 Kasebier, Gertrude
47.607 Sears, Mrs. J. Montgomery
47.608 White, Charence H.

When you have secured permission to borrow them, will you please let us know, so we may include them in the shipment to you.

Dear Monroe:

I have your special delivery of February 18th and the draft of the release for the Stieglitz Exhibition.

I do not see particularly why I should make this statement, and, in fact, would think it better if it came from the Museum direct. However, I leave this for you to decide finally, as I really do not care.

There are two places where I should like to see a change. One is in paragraph 3, "as the single figure of greatest stature and importance in the modern history of art in the United States". I think that this is excessive. It should be changed to "one of the most important figures in the history of American art in the United States", or something of the kind. It was the variety of his "importances" or the grouping of them. I do not think he was the single figure of greatest stature, really.

Later on in the same paragraph, "young American painters most worthy of comparison with them, such as". I would change this to "young American painters most nearly comparable to them, such as".

I suppose that this will be cut down by anybody who publishes it anyway, but I would urge you to leave me out of it and put it in your name or that of the Museum.

In haste,

Sincerely,

Phil G.

DRAFT OF RELEASE ANNOUNCING STIEGLITZ EXHIBITIONS

Two major summer exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53 Street, will bear the name of Alfred Stieglitz, according to an announcement made yesterday by Philip L. Goodwin, Chairman of the Museum's Exhibitions Committee. One exhibition will be devoted to modern paintings, drawings and prints assembled by Stieglitz during his lifetime, and the other will be dedicated to a retrospective showing of Stieglitz' own photography.

James Johnson Sweeney, until recently the Director of the Museum's Department of Painting and Sculpture, first conceived the exhibitions and had conducted the preliminary arrangements for them with Mr. Stieglitz' wife, Georgia O'Keeffe; therefore, Mr. Sweeney was invited by the ~~Exhibitions Committee~~ Museum to serve as guest director of the exhibitions, which will open on June 11th. In announcing Mr. Sweeney's acceptance of the directorship of the two exhibitions, Mr. Goodwin said that the Trustees and staff were convinced that no one is better fitted for this important task.

"Alfred Stieglitz," said Mr. Goodwin, "is widely esteemed as the single figure of greatest stature and importance in the modern history of art in the United States. He fulfilled a variety of roles with a ~~most fortunate~~ remarkable intuition of his era and a profound understanding of its artists. He was one of the first to grasp the meaning of the modern movement in Europe, and in his galleries, "291" and "An American Place," he promoted and sustained the careers of major figures in it as well as the young American painters most worthy of comparison with them, such as Marin, Hartley, Demuth, Dove and O'Keeffe. His extraordinary intellect and brilliant conversation exercised a unique influence upon men of letters as well as painters and photographers. He made a great personal collection in the ideal way, by using farsight and unfaltering taste instead of large sums of money. In his magazine "Camera Work" he published early writing of illustrious authors as well as that of his peers and disciples in photography. He was the first great champion of photography as an art and it was at his instigation that photographs were admitted to American museums on an equal footing with the other arts.

"Moulder of public opinion, leader of the young, courageous and farsighted dealer, inspiring talker, thoughtful editor, discerning collector, ~~of art,~~ and a great creative artist in his own right -- such was Alfred Stieglitz. He was a man for America to be proud of and the Museum of Modern Art is proud to have the consent and cooperation of his wife in presenting the first comprehensive exhibition of his life work."

Dear Monroe:

Thank you very much for the copy of "What Is Modern Painting", by Alfred, which I have perused with interest. Nearly 40,000 copies sold is certainly a record, and, of course, it is an answer to prayer, as everybody goes around asking what you see in such and such modern pictures.

Miss Ward has arranged for the Exhibitions Committee meeting at 4 o'clock on Thursday, February 27th. The Edelman question should come up then, but I do think that M. Martin Birnbaum had better not be a part of anything. Whom would you suggest? Since Mehrige is so much in favor, why should he not write the script?

Dear Jim:

At a meeting of the Exhibitions Committee yesterday I was authorized to ask you if you would undertake to direct the exhibition of the Alfred Stieglitz collection next summer.

Georgia O'Keeffe had three or four conferences, with Monroe and myself, and also with Monroe alone, and appeared before the Committee for a time yesterday afternoon. It would seem that her heart is set on having you direct this exhibition, and she can propose no one else--in fact, there really is no one else as fitted as you to do the thing in the best possible way.

Perhaps you feel a little as if you were so relieved of the grind of such work that you would prefer to do nothing but write. However, I hope that you will think of this as being the most unique collection by a unique personalty made in New York. There is no place as suitable and as satisfactory for it to be shown as the Museum of Modern Art, so I wonder whether you will not give it special consideration.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Philip Goodwin.

As Mr. Sweeney has told you, the Museum of Modern Art is extremely anxious to hold a retrospective exhibition of the photographs and the paintings in the collection of the late Alfred Stieglitz. The Exhibitions Committee is extremely enthusiastic about these exhibitions and has gone into the matter very carefully with a view to the most effective presentation possible.

The Committee has authorized me to propose to you an exhibition of the paintings, collection to open in May and continue through the summer, and we would devote to this all the third floor galleries devoted to our current show of Fourteen Americans.

We have explored the matter of a simultaneous showing of Mr. Stieglitz' photographs and we have concluded that this cannot be done without a meticulously prepared, definitive and copiously illustrated volume of Mr. Stieglitz' photography, which does not at present exist. Because of the extensive research which it will be necessary to do for the photography book we feel that it would be wiser to have a separate and later showing of Mr. Stieglitz' photographs toward the end of 1947 when it would be possible to have the definitive volume appear simultaneously with the exhibition.

The Exhibitions Committee has authorized me to propose these exhibitions to you and to assure you that they will receive the benefit of our most scrupulous attention and care. I would consider it a great favor if you would be good enough to let me know at your earliest convenience whether these proposals meet with your approval and whether we may have the honor of presenting the remarkable achievements of Mr. Stieglitz to the New York public in the manner which they deserve.

Museum of Modern Art
11 West 53rd Street
New York City

Dear Monroe Wheeler:

I received your letter and the photographic print of Stieglitz today, and we are immediately starting to make a demonstration halftone, which we hope will be satisfactory to both you and the artist.

Because the best halftones are made with fine screen, it will be important to print the book on a high grade white coated paper. In fact, it would be a good thing to prove the halftone on the paper which is going to be used for the catalogue. I think our Engraving Department is getting in touch with you through our New York office in regard to this matter.

We understand the necessity of keeping the photograph in perfect condition and will be extremely careful to do so.

With kindest regards,

Cordially yours,

Wm. A. Kittredge

Dear Monroe:

Here is a copy of the Portfolio, the tributes, and proofs of the reproductions.

The proofs are still being worked on. I have just returned a set with corrections to Lakeside. I have not marked the corrections on the enclosed proofs as it would only mess them up. Obviously the O'Keeffe portrait needs the most work. It is a question of inking.

You will note that the lower right hand corner of the picture of O'Keeffe's hands also needs work on the inking particularly, and that the first of the New York pictures is also not satisfactory. Otherwise, except for obvious flaws, I must say that I never thought it would get this far by way of reproductions.

I decided to have the label glazed so that it would not soil in handling.

The numbering on the reproductions will be done in very light futura at the extreme right hand bottom corner.

When you have looked at the portfolio would you telephone me?

I can send over more portfolios without prints for display. You might care to put the enclosed prints under glass so that people would know what they were ordering. What do you think? Let us discuss it.

You will be careful in handling the proofs won't you? It was with the greatest difficulty I got them to give me a properly cut extra set of proofs.

Meanwhile many thanks for your cooperation.

Dear Monroe Wheeler:

The Art Institute of Chicago writes me that they will write you instructions about shipping the Stieglitz show to Chicago.

When you turn it over to be shipped will you see to it that each picture or a small group together is packed in corrugated board as mine were packed when returned to me last summer. It will be such a protection for both paintings and frames. Kindly let me know about this as I will be wondering.

The Museum had a colorplate made last year of one of my blue and white pelvis paintings for my catalogue. The woman who owns the painting, Mrs. Caroline Fessler, 4035 N. Pa., Indianapolis, Indiana offered to pay for the plate. I had a letter from her yesterday saying you had not sent her a bill. I suggest that you send it to her now. She is not well, is interested to pay it, so the sooner the better. You might send her a sample of the color plate if you have it, with the bill.

Your letter arrived yesterday which was my first day back at work after four weeks vacation. I checked with Mr. Wheeler's office and found that we had not had any final word from Mr. Rich giving us specific instructions. We have wired him and as soon as we receive his reply, we can make arrangements to turn the exhibition over to Budworth.

We will see that the paintings are packed as you wish before turning them over to Budworth, and will write you again when they leave the Museum.

I hope you are enjoying the Southwest this summer and are getting a good rest and change. New York is hot and muggy and I find it a bit difficult to settle down to concentrated work but most of all I miss my daily swims in the salt water on Cape Cod.

Our Registrar's Department is making its plans for the balance of the season and would like to know whether you wish to have all the Stieglitz material returned to An American Place upon the closing of the two exhibitions.

I heard in a round about way that both exhibitions were going to Chicago, in which case you will perhaps like everything shipped to W. S. Budworth, whom we have found to be most reliable packers.

The exhibitions here continue to evoke enthusiastic approval and we are very happy about their success.

Dear Miss O'Keeffe:

Enclosed are two copies of the lists of frames, glass and mats which we are returning to you tomorrow morning, June 27th by Hahn Bros.

As you requested, we have kept at the Museum the pieces of glass which were removed from some of the paintings by Dove, Demuth, and O'Keeffe and will store them here so that they may be replaced on the paintings at the close of the exhibition here.

When you have checked the items returned to you, we would appreciate it if you would sign one copy of the receipt and return it to us for our files.

I would also want to know who would be doing the show. James Sweeney was very much interested in doing it, but I think now that he probably would not want to do it. I regret that very much. It is so much easier to work with someone you have already worked with and like to work with. He has an idea of the material and I think was much interested.

However I imagine that isfinished.

I count it as one of the Museum's mistakes.

I will leave here next week and will be in New York not later than December 2nd--probably before. It takes a few days to get a ticket and get away--particularly when you dont want to go.

November 13, 1946

Dear Miss O'Keeffe:

We are delighted to hear that you look with favor upon the project of a Stieglitz exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art. I have discussed your letter with members of the Exhibitions Committee, and we agree with you that it would be highly desirable to show the finest of his photographs together with the most significant paintings and drawings from his collection. The two things that deterred us from proposing this to you in the first place were the problems of publication and space, but upon further consideration we find that our recently enlarged third floor space will be adequate and that we can prepare for spring publication a volume of reproductions with a suitable foreword.

The problem of characterizing Stieglitz in an exhibition differs from anything we have undertaken before. Your letter has been a great help in clarifying the matter for us all, and it is very important that the Exhibitions Committee and the staff should be in entire agreement among themselves and with you as to its general concept and purpose.

We all concur with you in believing that the exhibition should be well balanced between Stieglitz' own creative work and his collection of the work of other artists of his time. To accomplish this, we therefore propose to reconstruct the third floor which is now the major space available for current exhibitions and which has recently been enlarged by the removal of the storage space that previously occupied the center of the floor. This would give us nine or ten galleries, half of which would be devoted to Stieglitz the artist, with about 150 of his finest photographs, and the other half to about 70 master works from his collection of paintings and drawings showing, as you suggest, the salient points in the evolution of Marin, Hartley, Demuth, Dove and the foreign works that are of especial interest. Display cases in some of the galleries would show specimens of his publications.

Given the difference in size between paintings and photography, this should, we feel, establish Stieglitz in the way he should be understood as not only a great discoverer and patron of artists, but as the most imaginative and creative of photographers. Please let me know as soon as you can whether this plan meets with your approval. If the exhibition is to be realized this spring we shall have to begin work on it immediately. As I told you before, we would like to open the exhibition in May and have it continue through the summer, which is our period of highest attendance.

Dear Mr. Goodwin:

This morning I have your letter of November 1st. I hasten to answer it because I think the element of time is undoubtedly important for the Museum in arranging its schedule.

I wish to thank you and the Exhibitions Committee for the offers of the two Stieglitz exhibitions.

My feeling is that to give a real picture of him the whole thing should be done at once. It would be an exhibition of great variety and it does not seem reasonable to me to make two things of it.

It would include Stieglitz' evolution as a photographer, something of the photo secession group and something of his publications. The evolution of his publications maybe.

Of the collection of paintings, etc., the foreign things are of varied interest. There are not many of them. The principal part of the collection is the evolution of the people who interested him most - Marin, Dove, DeMuth, Harkey and myself.

I think the things together as a picture of a person are of much more interest than they can possibly be if divided into two exhibitions at different times. I feel that this year would be the time for such a show, but I would rather let it go till the next year and do it all at once, as I think it should be done. I think it a mistake to make it into two shows.

I have planned to be here till about the first of December. I would return to the city sooner to go over this with you if it would make any difference, but I cannot see that it would. However if you think that talking about it is sufficiently important, wire me to Espanola, N.M., andI will be along in a few days.

I know that I cannot change my mind about the idea of there being more than one show. That I think is final. I know you would agree with me if you knew what material is there.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Georgia O'Keeffe

Dear Miss O'Keeffe:

As Mr. Sweeney has told you, the Museum of Modern Art is extremely anxious to hold a retrospective exhibition of the photographs of and paintings in the Collection of Alfred Stieglitz. The Exhibitions Committee, of which I am chairman, has discussed it enthusiastically, and we want to make the most effective possible presentation of this unique material.

The Committee has authorized me to propose to you an exhibition of the Stieglitz Collection to open in May, 1947, and continue through the summer. The whole of the third floor painting galleries would be devoted to it,- in other words, the twelve galleries now devoted to our current show of works of fourteen Americans.

We have discussed the matter of showing the Stieglitz photographs, and we have concluded that this should not be done without a meticulously prepared definitive and copiously illustrated volume on his photography, which does not exist at present. Because of the extensive research which would be necessary for the photography book, we think that it would be wiser to delay the showing of the Stieglitz photographs to the end of 1947, when it would be possible to have an authoritative volume appear simultaneously with the exhibition.

The Exhibitions Committee has authorized me to propose these exhibitions to you, and to assure you that they will receive our utmost care and attention.

I shall consider it a great favor if you will let me know at your earliest convenience whether you approve of these proposals, and whether we may have the honor of presenting the remarkable achievements of Mr. Stieglitz to the public in the manner which they deserve.

I do earnestly hope that you will approve of these proposals.

Dear Monroe:

I am enclosing the Stieglitz Exhibition release with several revisions.

I feel it is important to bring out clearly that I have agreed to direct the Stieglitz exhibition at the request of Miss O'Keeffe and not merely on the invitation of the Museum. To return to the Museum as a "guest director", merely on the Museum's invitation, does not make sense to me. And I am sure it would not to any one familiar with the situation.

Sincerely,

Dear Jim:

I have prepared the enclosed release to announce the Stieglitz exhibitions. We should like to send it out this week if you will be good enough to return it to me with any corrections you would like to make.

Faithfully yours,

Dear Jim:

Thanks for your letter of December 11th about the Stieglitz Collection exhibition.

I brought up the matter at the Executive Committee meeting yesterday, and would like to present it finally--as an early decision is necessary--at the Exhibitions Committee meeting next Thursday. In order to do this, it would be necessary to know more exactly the details of the arrangement which would be acceptable to you.

Your suggestion of a meeting between Messrs. Barr, Wheeler and yourself is a good one, as all the points you mention are personal ones. After deciding them, you could talk the matter over with Miss O'Keeffe, and Barr and Wheeler with the people at the Museum, to see if the arrangement is acceptable to everyone. If it should be so, it could then be brought up at the Exhibitions Committee meeting on the 19th and settled.

I tried to reach you by telephone today, but have missed you so far, so I am sending this letter.

Would either 11 A.M. or 3:30 P.M. on Monday, December 16th, be satisfactory for you to meet Barr and Wheeler? Either of those times suits them, but they should know tomorrow, if you will give an answer then. Any place you choose would be satisfactory, but I suppose Alfred Barr's office perhaps would be the most convenient for all.

The matter of the arrangement between the Metropolitan Museum and the Museum of Modern Art is far too complicated to settle in connection with this exhibition. I know that the permanent disposition of the Stieglitz Collection interests Miss O'Keeffe a great deal, but a far-reaching and permanent arrangement would take a long time to work out. Perhaps some portion of the Stieglitz Collection could be arranged to go to the Museum of Modern Art and eventually to the Metropolitan.

I am so glad that there is a good chance of this exhibition taking place at the M.M.A. under the best auspices.

Sincerely,

PG.

Dear Jim:

At a meeting of the Exhibitions Committee yesterday I was authorized to ask you if you would undertake to direct the exhibition of the Alfred Stieglitz collection next summer.

Georgia O'Keeffe had three or four conferences with Monroe and myself, and also with Monroe alone, and appeared before the Committee for a time yesterday afternoon. It would seem that her heart is set on having you direct this exhibition, and she can propose no one else--in fact, there really is no one else as fitted as you to do the thing in the best possible way.

Perhaps you feel a little as if you were so relieved of the grind of such work that you would prefer to do nothing but write. However, I hope that you will think of this as being the most unique collection by a unique personalty made in New York. There is no place as suitable and as satisfactory for it to be shown as the Museum of Modern Art, so I wonder whether you will not give it special consideration.

With best regards,

Sincerely,
