This is the 200th issue of our Art Bulletin originally begun in 1937. We hope that we have achieved, academically and esthetically, through our screened listings, a true picture of the forces underlying the emergence and development of modern art. We are curious to know how many of our faithful readers have been able to collect a complete record of these bulletins.

9/27/61

Beginning February 1st, we expect to be closed for lunch from noon to 1 p.m., except for deliveries, telephone calls and absolute emergencies (e.g., only one hour between jet flights).

List No. 205

International Art Magazines

Semi-Annuals and Back-Issues (see last page)

Most magazine publishers allow entry of subscriptions any time; however, some prefer to run within the calendar year. Unless otherwise instructed, we shall begin subscriptions with the current issue to run for one year, one series or a standing order until cancelled.

A remittance with the order is appreciated and is essential for subscriptions or single issues priced under $5.00.

We shall be glad to invoice sample copies on approval with return privilege.

All list prices are subject to publisher's change, cancellations to publisher's acceptance.

Special Acquaintance Service: Newly established libraries, clubs, offices of architects, designers and information centers will be gladly served with a selection of such magazines and series which pertain to their special interests. Thus each magazine under scrutiny can be judged properly with a view to entering a subscription which we shall be happy to take care of. Just state your field of activity, we will rush a selection to you on approval for your perusal.

Noa, Noa, in full color

Gauguin (Paul) Noa Noa. Voyage to Tahiti. Postscript by Jean Loize. 70 p., 50 ill., 39 in color, 4to, 1961 $10.50
Gauguin's diary from Tahiti has never been hitherto published in its entirety in English. The manuscript was published in facsimile, 1954 (with letter by Charles Morice and preface by Berthe Le Garrec) $12.50. The translator Jonathan Griffin says "The genuine version of Noa Noa by Gauguin unaided is an important document. A beautiful piece of writing: amusing, acid, wide-eyed, moving. Gauguin feared that, unedited, it would seem absurdly crude and no doubt it would have, to most readers in his day. But we want it as it is—its sketch form, jerky directness, authentic freshness. In translating Noa Noa, one tries to keep out of the way: to change it into smooth English prose would be to slip back into the error of Charles Morice. We also recommend Le Sourire de Paul Gauguin, Coll. complète en facsimile. Notes by L.-J. Bouge. 1952 $15.00; Gauguin Water-Colours, Pastels and Drawings, all in color, notes by Jean Leymarie, 51 color plates, 1961 $7.50 and Noa Noa, Eine Auswahl von Aquarellen, Holzschnitten und Texten, 16 color plates, $1.50 (Piper-Bücherei, v. 170)

Dreams and Technique of a Pioneer Photographer

Weston: The Daybooks of Edward Weston. Vol. 1: Mexico, 1923-1926. Ed. by Nancy Newhall. 250 p., 40 photographs, glossary of Mexican words and phrases, Weston's technique, bibliog., index, lge 8vo, 1962 $10.00

Like Delacroix, Weston wrote with no thought of publication. Years after he had given up keeping a diary, he reviewed what he had written. This volume reflects not only the stringent self-analysis of an artist and a revealing commentary on photography, but also illuminates Mexican society and culture of the 1920s. "Edward Weston belongs to that great generation of artist-photographers which includes Alfred Stieglitz and Edward Steichen" Toby Joysmith in The News, Mexico City. "There is no better way of grasping what lay behind Weston's struggle to achieve his purity of vision than to read this first volume of his Daybooks" Hilton Kramer in The Nation. The second volume will be published during 1963.

Noa, Noa, in full color

Gauguin (Paul) Noa Noa. Voyage to Tahiti, Postscript by Jean Loize, 70 p., 50 ill., 39 in color, 4to, 1962 $13.95

Gauguin's diary from Tahiti has never been hitherto published in its entirety in English. The manuscript was published in facsimile, 1954 (with letter by Charles Morice and preface by Berthe Le Garrec) $12.50. The translator Jonathan Griffin says "The genuine version of Noa Noa by Gauguin unaided is an important document. A beautiful piece of writing: amusing, acid, wide-eyed, moving. Gauguin feared that, unedited, it would seem absurdly crude and no doubt it would have, to most readers in his day. But we want it as it is—its sketchy form, jerky directness, authentic freshness. In translating Noa Noa, one tries to keep out of the way: to change it into smooth English prose would be to slip back into the error of Charles Morice. We also recommend: Le Sourire de Paul Gauguin, Coll. complete en facsimile. Notes by L.-J. Bouge. 1952 $15.00; Gauguin Water-Colours, Pastels and Drawings, all in color, notes by Jean Leymarie, 31 color plates, 1961 $7.50 and Noa Noa, Eine Auswahl von Aquarellen, Holzschnitten und Texten, 16 color plates, $1.50 (Piper-Bücherei, v. 170) See also: Lettres de Gauguin.

List No. 217

Catalogues
of International Art Exhibitions

This is a selection of both recent and older exhibition catalogues, mainly from abroad, which reflect a growing branch of our activities. This current list includes many of the catalogues now available through us, but as it is impossible to list more than a few, we invite your inquiries as to any others in which you may be interested.

In order to avoid passing on to our customers the high cost of book-keeping on such small items we would suggest that you remit when ordering, adding 15c per title for postage and handling (foreign customers please use international money orders or drafts on a New York bank.) Of course refunds will be made when stock is no longer available and returns will be accepted, provided they are received, in saleable condition, well packed, within 10 days of receipt of merchandise. However postage both ways will be at the customers expense.

Marc Chagall, 1962, Lithograph

Chagall: Poster (Mourlot) 21″ x 27½″. Green, blue and black. Price $12.50. Please add $1.50 to cover cost of mailing tube and postage. Thank you.
More illustrations of our posters will appear in future lists. For immediate information, please stop in and see our display.

A Friend of Steichen, Stieglitz, A Photograph Pioneer

Coburn: A Portfolio of 16 photographs by Alvin Langdon Coburn. Intr. by Nancy Newhall. 22 p. of text, incl. list of photographs reproduced, notes, selected bibliography, articles, broadcasts, writings of Coburn, plus 16 loose photographs, laid in portfolio, half-cloth, folio, 1963, ed. of 2000 copies $12.50

Immense satisfaction should reward those steady but less fashionable photomaniac groups here and abroad who see these few samples from a master photographer — an artist little known, little appreciated and little copied, then or now. It was G. B. Shaw who in 1906 recognized the formidable achievement of this artist-photographer at the age of 23. But, as Shaw pointed out in the preface to a show of Coburn's work at the Royal Photographic Society in London, Coburn had begun experimenting at the age of 8 and thus had 15 years of technical experience behind him. Here are a few of the personalities who sat for Coburn: Max Weber, G. B. Shaw, Rodin, Henry James, Thomas Hardy, Ezra Pound, Wyndham Lewis, David Lloyd George and W. B. Yeats. The portfolio is published as the third volume of the George Eastman House monographs. (Vol. 2: The Daybooks of Edward Weston, 1962, $10.00) See also: Porter, Shustak, Sommer.

A Friend of Steichen, Stieglitz, A Photograph Pioneer

Coburn: A Portfolio of 16 photographs by Alvin Langdon Coburn. Intr. by Nancy Newhall. 22 p. of text, incl. list of photographs reproduced, notes, selected bibliography, articles, broadcasts, writings of Coburn, plus 16 loose photographs, laid in portfolio, half-cloth, folio, 1963, ed. of 2000 copies $12.50

Immense satisfaction should reward those steady but less fashionable photomaniac groups here and abroad who see these few samples from a master photographer — an artist little known, little appreciated and little copied, then or now. It was G. B. Shaw who in 1906 recognized the formidable achievement of this artist-photographer at the age of 23. But, as Shaw pointed out in the preface to a show of Coburn's work at the Royal Photographic Society in London, Coburn had begun experimenting at the age of 8 and thus had 15 years of technical experience behind him. Here are a few of the personalities who sat for Coburn: Max Weber, G. B. Shaw, Rodin, Henry James, Thomas Hardy, Ezra Pound, Wyndham Lewis, David Lloyd George and W. B. Yeats. The portfolio is published as the third volume of the George Eastman House monographs. (Vol. 2: The Daybooks of Edward Weston, 1962, $10.00) See also: Negre, Newhall, Shustak.

International Art Magazines

List No. 230

Most magazine publishers allow entry of subscriptions any time; however, some prefer to run within the calendar year. Unless otherwise instructed, we shall begin subscriptions with the current issue to run for one year, one series or a standing order until cancelled.

A remittance with the order is appreciated and is essential for subscriptions or single issues. Add 25c postage for one single issue, plus 15c for each additional copy.

Mrs. J. Chapman will be glad to answer any queries concerning magazine subscriptions, back issues and special arrangements, gift-subscriptions, etc.

All list prices are subject to publisher's change, cancellations to publisher's acceptance.

Josef Albers. Ed. by Eugen Gomringer. Texts by Clara Diament de Sujo, Will Grohmann, Norbert Lynton, Michel Seuphor. 200 p., 119 ill., 37 in color, many original serigraphs, chronology, bibliog., '68 $27.50 A

The work of Albers, who taught at the Bauhaus for many years, is becoming increasingly important for the development of visual articulation in our time. Previous publications have been concerned with partial aspects of his work. There has long been a need for a monograph covering the development of the artist from the earliest works up to his most recent ones. Many of the artist's own writings and poems are included in the present volume.

Arntz-Bulletin: Dokumentation der Kunst des 20. Jahrhunderts. Volume I, part 1: Ackermann through Amiet, 50 p., 10 ill., '68 * $6.75 B

This bibliography not only presents a cumulative list of all 20th Century "oeuvre catalogues", but also critically evaluates existing catalogues and brings them up-to-date through additions and corrections. The table of contents will also point out missing or incomplete entries, so that existing definitive catalogues may be used in conjunction with this bibliography. Subsequent parts will be published at short intervals, copies available on a subscription basis only. An invaluable aid and reference source for all libraries, scholars, art dealers, museums, and private collectors.

BERNE, Stanley

The Unconscious Victorious and Other Stories. 200 p., 6 ill. by Herman Zaage, in prep., '69 bound ~~$8.00~~ A 5.00 * ~~$6.00~~ A 3.00

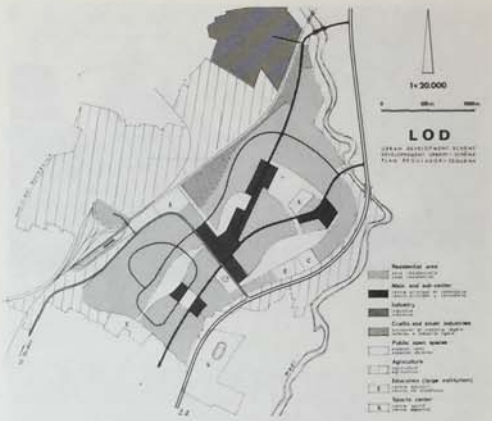

A collection of short stories, with essays on the condition of the short story today. Each story is preceded by a legend indicating its structure. At the end of the book there are transcripts of three radio interviews.

BIEBER, Margarete

German Readings 1: Short Survey of Greek and Roman Art for Students of German and Fine Arts, 60 p., reprint '68 * $2.50 B

A very good general survey on the history of ancient art and a clear insight into the conception of art which the best German writers have developed. Beginning with modern commentators, Dr. Bieber leads the student gradually back to the three great classical writers: Winckelmann, Lessing, and Goethe. The vocabulary is compiled to give the students the meaning in an art context. It contains particularly the technical expressions necessary to understand the German writers on the History and Theory of Fine Arts. An invaluable study aid.

CARDEW, Cornelius

Treatise. 193 p., a graphically designed musical score linking formal graphic design with conventional notation, spiral bound, '67 $8.50 B

Treatise is a long continuous drawing—in form rather like a novel—but composed according to musical principles and intended to serve as a score for musicians to play from. Each player interprets the score according to his own sensibility, an improvisatory character is essential to the work which may be performed as a whole or in parts. Cardew is a young British composer who has studied at the Royal Academy of Music, and with John Cage and Karlheinz Stockhausen. Treatise has been performed in Carnegie Hall, the Albright-Knox Gallery, Forte Belvedere (Florence), and has been recorded for the BBC.

CASTEL, Moshe

Moshe Castel. Texts by Michel Tapié and Howard Sachar. 180 p., numerous documents in facsimile, 24 color plates, 1 original lithograph pulled by Mourlot, '68 $26.50 B

Castel's subtly modulated monochrome relief paintings are abstract, yet they evoke figurative forms, bits of writing; they are resolutions of the present, yet they are close to being archaeological objects.

CHASTEL, André et al.

Nicolas De Staël. French text. ca. 450 p., 1100 ill., 40 in color, catalogue raisonné by Mme. de Staël, '68 $43.50 B

De BOCK, Paul Aloise

Paul Delvaux. 320 p., 194 ill., '67 $37.50 B

The author is an early friend of the Belgian painter Paul Delvaux. The nomenclature of the paintings, the bibliographical and biographical studies, the documentation, have all been established with the utmost care. The psychological study of the man, the painter and his art, his family background, the various influences which affected his development, all permit us to penetrate the strange and mysterious world of this painter, the "world of Paul Delvaux".

WALDROP, Keith POSTPONED
To The Sincere Reader. Designed and illustrated by Nelson Howe. 50 p., 14 ill., in color, signed and numbered edition of 100 copies, wrappers, in prep., '68 * $12.50 B
The poet and artist have closely worked together to interrelate the words and images of the poem with the book design. The oval shapes which are found in the imagery of the poem are repeated and developed graphically; collage materials have been used but are limited to anatomical sections which have been set with the type on a grid-pattern. Keith Waldrop has printed much of his poetry on his own press, he is currently teaching at Brown University. Nelson Howe has had several exhibitions of his experimental work in graphics at the East Hampton Gallery.

This is an unusual attempt to show the current state of arts and crafts in Italy, through the photograph. It also is intended to bring the artists, writers, architects, publishers and photographers together, in order to propound and diffuse the ideas for which they stand, and to serve as a basis for possible future collaboration between the arts.
