FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New York - September 23, 1953
