SUMMER ART CLASSES ANNOUNCED AT THE MUSEUM OF MODERN ART

Applications are being accepted for the summer session of art classes for children and adults at the People's Art Center at the Museum of Modern Art, 21 West 53 Street, which will begin June 4. Most of the studios are air-conditioned.

The classes for children and young-people from 3 to 18 are organized by age groups and are limited in size. They will meet one morning or afternoon a week on Mondays through Thursdays. Each child is encouraged to progress according to his own ability and interest and special emphasis is placed on his creative growth rather than the development of a formal technique.

For parents with children from the age of 3 to 6, the Center offers classes in which they may work together.

Classes for adults meet one morning, afternoon or evening a week also on Mondays through Thursdays and are graded to meet the varying experience of the applicants. The program is designed to further personal enjoyment of art and will include instruction in painting and drawing in the studio and a "Beginner's Outdoor Sketching and Painting" class. This class will be held at various locations in the city such as the market section, the United Nations site, and lots where construction projects are under way.

For additional information, call the Education Department of The Museum of Modern Art, Circle 5-8900.
