Claude Monet: Seasons and Moments. An exhibition of Monet's land-sapes. Although a large group of Monet's most important early land-sapes are included, the exhibition emphasizes those representing a single motif in several versions, at different hours of the day or seasons of the year. It culminates in a selection from the famous "series" - Haystacks, Poplars, Cathedrals, Views of the Thames, Venice, Water Lilies, etc. Between 1891 and 1912 each of these series was exhibited as a related group, although they have not been seen in this way since. Under the direction of William Seitz, a professor of art
