SUMMER FARE AT MODERN MUSEUM

The Museum of Modern Art will offer summer visitors a variety of programs in addition to its art exhibitions and films.

Included in the summer's program are gallery talks conducted by Sylvia Milgram. The talks, which will take the form of lecture discussions, will be held every Thursday evening from 5:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. There will be no charge above the regular $1.75 admission to The Museum. The topic and gallery location will be listed each week on the chalk board at the first floor information desk. Miss Milgram has conducted art lectures for New York City public school children on behalf of the Board of Education for the past ten years, and has been a frequent guest lecturer on art subjects at many universities.

Acoustiguide tours of the second and third floor collections are also available. These recorded tours may be taken any time during museum hours at a cost of $1.00 per person or $1.50 for two people sharing an acoustiguide.

Mondays are pay-what-you-wish days. A penny or more admits the visitor to all exhibitions and films.

One of The Museum of Modern Art's most popular summer programs has been its "Jazz in The Garden" concerts. Jazz, jazz-rock, rock, blues and folk groups will entertain in the Sculpture Garden every Thursday through August 26, from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. Admission is $1.00 in addition to the regular Museum entrance fee.

Each Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. The Museum opens its Sculpture Garden, 8 West 54 Street, free to the public. Light refreshments and occasional entertainment and recorded music are available. This program, called Summergarden, has attracted over 20,000 visitors to The Museum's park-like garden, to date, and has been made possible through a grant from the Mobil Foundation.
