A. Conger Goodyear, President of the Museum of Modern Art, announces that at a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, Julian Street, Jr., was appointed Secretary of the Museum.

Mr. Street comes to the Museum after eleven years' association with the National Broadcasting Company. He was formerly on the staff of the N. Y. Herald Tribune and the New York Herald, Paris edition. In 1935 he was appointed Secretary to the American Economic Mission to the Orient, headed by W. Cameron Forbes, and obtained a leave of absence from the National Broadcasting Company to go to Japan and China with this Mission.

Mr. Street was born in New York City and was graduated from Princeton University in 1925.
