FOR RELEASE ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1979

The great screen comics are explored by noted film historian Leonard Maltin in REMEMBERED LAUGHTER: THE GREAT SCREEN COMICS, an eight part lecture-screening series beginning at 6 PM tonight at The Museum of Modern Art, 11 West 53 Street.

Maltin will discuss Charlie Chaplin in the first program and screen three rarely seen Chaplin films: Making A Living (a short), His Trysting Place (a Keystone short), and a three part feature called The Chaplin Revue (Shoulder Arms, A Dog's Life, and The Pilgrim).

The lectures are part of LOOKING AT FILM, an ongoing lecture series at The Museum of Modern Art funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH).

Tickets are available at the Museum's Lobby Information Desk for $3.50 single admission or $25.00 for the eight lecture series. The lectures are at 6 PM on Wednesdays and 8 PM on Saturdays, July 18 through August 11, 1979. The public may inquire by calling (212) 956-4214.
