THE CIRCULATING FILM LIBRARY: RECENT ACQUISITIONS
May 1-9, 1987

Beginning May 1 The Museum of Modern Art will screen a diverse selection of newly-acquired works from its Circulating Film Library. Films by both well-known and emerging independent documentary and experimental filmmakers, as well as works by animators, comprise THE CIRCULATING FILM LIBRARY: RECENT ACQUISITIONS. The exhibition opens with animated films by George Griffin on Friday, May 1, at 6:00 p.m. Two documentaries on New York, Susan Fanshel's Made in the Bronx (1981) and Lionel Rogosin's On the Bowery (1956), will be shown at 3:00 p.m.

A key figure among American independent animators, George Griffin is represented by works including Rapid Transit (1969), Head (1975), and Thicket (1985). The subject of Made in the Bronx is the creativity of so-called "ordinary" Bronx residents. On the Bowery is a rare view of life among the derelicts who inhabit that downtown Manhattan street.

The Circulating Film Library, a major force in the encouragement of film study for almost fifty years, maintains a collection of more than 1,200 films. Reflecting the broad range of genres, styles, and periods, the exhibition includes works by such animation artists as Robert Breer and Jane Aaron; such silent films from the George Eastman House Archive in Rochester as Laszlo Moholy Nagy's Berlin Still Life (1926) and Gypsies (1932) and Siegmund Lubin Productions' Great Train Robbery (1904) and Meet Me at the Fountain (1904); such documentaries as Richard Rogers's Cadmium Yellow (1982) and Malcolm Leigh's Manifestations of Shiva (1985); and such works about dance as Maya Deren's A Study in Choreography for Camera (1945) and Doris Chase's Three Solos (Dance) (1977-78). A complete schedule is attached.

THE CIRCULATING FILM LIBRARY: RECENT ACQUISITIONS continues in the Museum's Roy and Niuta Titus Theater 2 through May 9. The exhibition has been organized by William Sloan, librarian, Circulating Film Library, Department of Film.
