SYMPOSIUM ACCOMPANIES MODERN POSTER EXHIBITION AT THE MUSEUM OF MODERN ART

In conjunction with THE MODERN POSTER exhibition, The Museum of Modern Art presents a symposium, "The Changing Use and Form of the Poster," on Thursday, June 9, 1988, at 8:30 p.m. The symposium explores the transformation of poster design and the shifting cultural roles of the art form throughout its hundred-year history, focusing on contemporary design concepts and current social and commercial functions.

Moderated by Stuart Wrede, director of the Museum's Department of Architecture and Design and organizer of the exhibition, the panel includes Polish critic Szymon Bojko; and designers Pierre Bernard, Grapus Design, France; Keith Godard, New York; April Greiman, Los Angeles; and Armin Hofmann, Basel, Switzerland.

Tickets are $8 public, $7 members, and $5 students, and are available at the Museum's information desk.

The exhibition and its accompanying publication have been made possible by a generous grant from The May Department Stores Company. Additional support has been provided by the National Endowment for the Arts. The exhibition is on view from June 6 to September 6, 1988.
