NED RIFKIN LECTURES ON ROBERT MOSKOWITZ AT THE MUSEUM OF MODERN ART

In conjunction with the exhibition ROBERT MOSKOWITZ, Ned Rifkin will deliver a lecture on the artist at The Museum of Modern Art. "The Art of Robert Moskowitz: A Thirty Year Overview" will take place on March 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the Museum's Roy and Niuta Titus Theater 1. Mr. Rifkin, who organized ROBERT MOSKOWITZ, is chief curator for exhibitions, The Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

In his talk, Mr. Rifkin will trace stylistic and thematic developments in Moskowitz's art from the small assemblages of the early 1960s, to the large flat paintings which established him as a New Image painter in the 1970s, and recent works merging image and abstraction.

Tickets for the lecture--$8.00 for the public, $7.00 for Museum members, and $5.00 for students--are available at the Museum's lobby information desk.

The first museum retrospective devoted to the artist's work, ROBERT MOSKOWITZ is on view through May 1.
