The summer exhibition, which opens on June 8 at the Museum of Modern Art, 11 West Fifty-third Street, is intended to supplement the Bliss collection and the permanent collection which will remain on view, it is announced by Alfred H. Barr, Jr., director of the Museum.

"The exhibition, while by no means complete, should give an interesting survey of modern painting and sculpture in Europe and America during the last 50 years," said Mr. Barr. "Of nineteenth century painting, the Bliss collection already contains admirable examples of the work of Cézanne, Daumier, Gauguin and Degas. Paintings by other 'old masters' of the modern movement have been lent by private collectors."

Among the paintings lent to the Museum for this exhibition are: van Gogh's "Arlésienne," from the collection of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bakwin; Gauguin's "Poèmes Barbare," lent by A. Conger Goodyear, president of the Museum; Renoir's "Moulin de la Galette," lent by John Hay Whitney; Renoir's "The River Bank," and the Toulouse-Lautrec "Messalina," both from the collection of Adolph Lewisohn; a Degas pastel from E. M. M. Warburg and a van Gogh flower piece lent by James W. Barney.

The American Thomas Eakins is represented by an early portrait of the artist's fiancée. Two lesser-known European painters of the older generation whose work has rarely been seen in America are the Belgian James Ensor, represented by "Masques" from the Bakwin collection, and Lovis Corinth, sometimes considered the greatest modern German painter, represented by a vigorous landscape from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Cohn.

Among contemporary painters, American and French are especially emphasized, together with a few pictures by German, English, Dutch and Mexican artists. The contemporary French masters include Bonnard, Braque, Derain, Dufy, Roger de la Fresnaye, Gromaire, Leger, Matisse, Rouault, Pierre Roy and Dunoyer de Segonzac. Of the artists working in Paris, examples will be shown of the work of the Russians.
Chagall and Soutine, the Polish Kisling, the Dutch Mondriaan, the Spanish Picasso and the Italian Modigliani. Germany is represented by a group of painters including Beckmann, Dix, Klee, Kleinschmidt and George Grosz, England by Augustus John and Mexico by Rivera, Charlot and Grozco.

The Museum's permanent collection of American painters includes the work of Preston Dickinson, Bernard Karfiol, Kenneth Hayes Miller, Charles Burchfield and Edward Hopper. Private collectors have lent additional works by George Bellows, Morris Kantor, Maurice Sterne, Eugene Speicher, John Marin, Max Weber, Walkowitz, Maurice Prendergast, Henry Lee McFee, Elshemus, Charles Demuth, Guy Pene du Bois and Peter Blume.

Sculpture by Degas, Matisse, Gaston Lachaise and the Anglo-American Jacob Epstein have been added to the sculpture by Maillol, Lehmbruck and Despiau already on exhibition. A large bronze figure of a woman by Lachaise is lent by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dunbar.

Private collectors lending paintings and sculpture to the summer exhibition include Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bakwin, James W. Barney, Stephen C. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Erich Cohn, Frank C. Crowninshield, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dunbar, A Conger Goodyear, Philip C. Johnson, Lincoln Kirstein, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Lewisohn, Adolph Lewisohn, Mrs. John
Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Green Sheaffer, Mrs. John J. Sheppard, D. Rockefeller, Jr., Elsa Schmid, James J. Sweeney, E. M. M. Warburg and John Hay Whitney.
