William A. M. Burden, New York and Washington

Special Assistant for Aviation to the Secretary of the United States Department of Commerce. Aviation expert and former official of National Aviation Corporation, Mr. Burden has been a member of the Museum's Advisory Committee and served as its Chairman for a term.

Walt Disney, Hollywood.

Creator of Mickey Mouse and producer of the first sound-cartoon, which played an important part in the early development of sound films. In 1932 introduced color in series of Silly Symphony cartoons; in 1937 produced first feature-length cartoon, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, followed by Fantasia, Bambi, Saludos Amigos and Victory Through Airpower. The Disney studios today are producing a great number of educational and training films for government agencies and the armed services as well as conducting intensive research and experiment toward the production of instructional films in the future. Mr. Disney recently received the Order of the Southern Cross from the government of Brazil and the Order of the Aztec Eagle from the government of Mexico. He was one of the first sponsors of the Museum of Modern Art Film Library and one of the first to donate his films to its collection.

Henry Allen Moe, New York

Mr. Moe has been Secretary-General of the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation since 1924. He is Trustee and Director of the Association of American Rhodes Scholars; a Trustee of the Oberlander Trust, Institute of Current World Affairs; a member of the American National Committee of League of Nations Committee on Intellectual Cooperation; and Chairman, Committee for Inter-American Artistic and Intellectual Relations of the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs.
