FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JOHN IHLDER OF NATIONAL CAPITAL HOUSING AUTHORITY TO GIVE THIRD POST-WAR PLANNING LECTURE AT MUSEUM OF MODERN ART

The role of government in planning housing will be discussed by John Ihlder of the National Capital Housing Authority as the third lecture of the post-war planning series held at the Museum of Modern Art. Mr. Ihlder's lecture will be given in the auditorium of the Museum Wednesday, June 7, at 8:30 P.M. Admission is 60¢ to the public; 30¢ to members.

Mr. Ihlder has been associated with national housing and civic planning projects and allied activities since 1910 when he became Field Secretary of the National Housing Association. Since 1940 he has been a consultant on Federal Defense Agencies housing. He is a member of the American City Planning Institute, the Washington Council of Social Agencies, the National Conference of Social Work, the International Federation for Housing and Town Planning.

The fourth and last lecture in the series will be given at the Museum June 14 by Joseph Hudnut, Dean of the Graduate School of Design, Harvard University. Mr. Hudnut will speak on The Relation of Structures to the City Plan.
